Rehoboth to Get Plant

Expects To Provide 50 Jobs

Keystone Homes, Inc., a newly formed home building firm, will soon begin construction of a new plant at the Rehoboth Valley Industrial District, it was announced today by officials of Mon Valley Area Enterprises, Inc.

The owners and operators of the new company, Harry Teuche, Jr., of Monessen, and James Savarino, of Charleroi, are currently completing negotiations with MVAE, Inc.. officials on the purchase of four acres of ground on which they will build a plant measuring 44-feet x 120 feet.

The firm will manufacture factory-built homes.

Tueche, formerly with Admiral Homes, and Savarino, formerly of Lincoln Homes, said construction of the new building will get started within a few weeks. They estimated the cost at some $50,000.

Employment for 50

At first, about 10 persons will be employed. Later, the company expects to provide employment for at least 50 persons.

According to Teuche and Savarino, the new structure will be fronted with a bricked face office with interior walls of concrete and tile. The factory ground will be landscaped and there will be adequate parking and loading facilities, conforming to the restrictions set up in the master plan prepared for MVAE, Inc., by the Michael Baker Engineering Company, of Rochester.

The Rehoboth Industrial District is a 220-acre plot adjacent to Route 981 in Rostraver Township.

New Quakes Rock the Aleutian Islands Area

By UNITED PRESS

Strong new earthquakes rocked the vicinity of the Aleutian Islands off Alaska, seismologists reported today.

The quakes, apparently aftershocks of the quakes that sent a five-foot tidal wave rolling toward Hawaii Saturday morning, were recorded on seismographs from Berkeley, Calif., to Weston, Mass.

The strongest quake was recorded around 7 a.m. EST today. The University of California at Berkeley set it at 6:52 EST and recorded it at a magnitude of 7 on the Richter scale of 10. The Fordham University seismograph in New York City recorded it beginning at 6:56 a.m. EST and also logged it at 7 on a scale of 10.

Seismologist Don Tocher at Berkeley said the quake still was registered at 8:50 a.m. EST. The Rev. Joseph Lynch, seismologist at Fordham, said his instruments recorded the peak of the shock at 7:04.49 a.m. EST.

Most Aftershocks

The Rev. Daniel Linehan at Weston College, Weston, Mass., recorded the shock at 6:56.10 a.m. est.

Father Lynch said the quake may prove to have registered as high as 7.50 but said he didn't think it would be as strong as the big shock last Saturday which proved to be of a magnitude of about 8.25.

The quakes Monday and today all are aftershocks in the wake of the first, big quake Saturday, he said.

The shock Saturday sent a five-foot tidal wave crashing against the shores of the Hawaiian Islands and a number of houses from coastal villages were washed into the sea. The wave also fanned out against the U.S. West Coast but the effect in California was negligible and the main force was directed at Hawaii.

Admiral Richard Byrd, Antarctic Explorer, Dies

BOSTON (UP)—The world of science and adventure today mourned the passing of Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd, who unlocked the frozen secrets of Antarctica in five famed explorations that covered a record two million miles.

The 68-year-old "pioneer of the poles" will be buried with the nation's heroes in Arlington National Cemetery at a date to be announced, a Navy spokesman said. Byrd died of a heart attack in his Beacon Hill home Monday night.

His family and physician, Dr. William E. Greer, were at the bedside when death came "peacefully in sleep" at 6:20 p.m. EST to the man who excited the world with his exploits in exploration and naval aviation.

It was barely three weeks ago that Byrd, the first person ever to fly over North and South Poles, received the last of his many decorations. He was presented the Presidential Medal of Freedom, accompanied by a personal note from President Eisenhower, in recognition of his distinguished scientific contributions to the nation.

Council to Meet

A regular meeting of Monessen City Council will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the City Building.

Jobs, Inc. In Need Of Funds

Mon Valley Area Enterprises, Inc., today revealed there is an urgent need for additional funds to finance its future development plans.

The MVAE, Inc., is a non-profit organization which has purchased 220 acres in the Rehoboth Valley area for industrial development.

Known as the Rehoboth Industrial District, the 220-acre plot is adjacent to Route 981 in Rostraver Township. It is a joint project of six communities in this area. It was purchased for $115,000.

At a meeting yesterday, directors of MVAE, Inc. also made plans to launch a drive to collect $22,412 in unpaid pledges.

$58,686 Collected

Jobs Incorporated, the fund raising division of MVAE, Inc., has a total of $81,281 subscribed during the campaign held in 1955, with a total of $58,686 actually collected.

Leonard C. Stern, of Monessen, vice-president of MVAE, Inc., reported that sufficient funds are needed to meet corporation debts and to allow for further development of the entire industrial district.

Members attending yesterday's meeting were Thomas Malpass, Jr., of Belle Vernon, president; Al Zeffirio, of Donora, secretary; and J. Preston Carson, of Donora; C. M. Kennedy, of Charleroi; A. E. Wilen, George E. Cieply, Sam D. Stern, Leonard Stern, and John Abernethy, all of Monessen; Lloyd Githens, of Belle Vernon, and Mike Buzanowski, of Monongahela.

Local Man Is Held in Delaware On Theft Charge

James E. Williams, an employe of Herron Oldsmobile Garage at 981 Schoonmaker avenue, was arrested by Delaware State Police yesterday on a charge of stealing a car belonging to the local garage, Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka, of Monessen, reported.

Williams, who gave his address as 104 Donner avenue, Monessen, allegedly took the car sometime over the weekend. Delaware police, after receiving a teletype message about the stolen car, nabbed him yesterday afternoon.

Since he took the stolen property over the state line, he may face federal charges.

Kuvinka said he is awaiting word from the FBI and a ruling from Westmoreland County District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco on the matter.

BECK BACK — SENATE BECKONS — A grinning Dave Beck, international president of the Teamsters union and wanted by the Senate labor probers, along with his financial records, is hustled through crowd at Seattle-Tacoma airport on his arrival home from Europe. Dave Beck, Jr., has his famed father in tow.

Early Beck Showdown Wanted by Committee

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate Rackets Committee may shove everything else aside to clear the way for an early showdown with Teamsters Union President Dave Beck, it was disclosed today.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) held a subpena threat over Beck's head if the portly union chief is too "reserved" about turning over his financial records to the committee.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said the group may have testimony from Beck the next order of business after its current series of hearings on links between Teamster officials and rackets in Portland, Ore. He said the decision depends partly "on what personal records he is willing to turn over."

Balks At Lie Test

The committee hopes to wind up its Portland hearings this week. It recalled to the stand today Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland, who refused Monday night to complete a lie detector test he himself had demanded.

Schrunk was accused in testimony before the committee of accepting a gambler's $500 bribe. He insisted on a lie detector test to support his denial of the charge. But Kennedy said the mayor "balked at some of the questions" when the test was half completed in the offices of the U.S. Secret Service.

Also on the witness list for today was Clyde C. Crosby, Teamster Union organizer for Oregon. Frank H. Brewster, Teamster vice president and head of its Western Conference, is slated to testify before the end of the Portland hearings this week.

Beck Cries "Politics"

Beck, just back from Europe, has shown no signs of hurrying to furnish data requested by the committee. McClellan said Monday night he received a verbal message from an agent of Beck's saying he would be busy for a couple of days with a "physical checkup" and then would consult his lawyers about what to supply the committee.

The Arkansas Democrat saw this as a "measure of reservation" on the Teamster chief's willingness to cooperate with the committee. He said he would await "further developments" to see the "extent of those reservations."

McClellan, asked on a radio pro-

TV Camerman In Legal Test

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP)—A city judge today sentenced a television cameramen to a mandatory one-hour jail term for refusing to destroy film taken in a city hall corridor just outside a courtroom.

Judge John Rudd sentenced cameraman Jack Murphy of Station WTVT, Tampa, to 30 days in jail or a $100 fine but ordered him jailed immediately for one hour.

This was understood to be a legal test of the judge's right to bar pictures outside his courtroom.

Murphy refused to abide by the judge's oral order to destroy films of witnesses in a bus segregation trial here earlier this month.

School Board Meets

A regular meeting of the Monessen School Board is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight in the superintendent's office in the high school.

Work May Start This Summer On Schoonmaker

There is a possibility that work may start this summer on the widening and resurfacing of Schoonmaker avenue from Sixth to 12th streets, Mayor Hugo J. Parente was informed from Harrisburg this morning.

In a telephone conversation with State Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic minority leader from Jeannette, the Mayor was informed that Secretary of Highways Joseph Lawler has assigned the designing of the project to the Westmoreland Engineering Co., of Greensburg.

The engineering firm, the Mayor learned, is expected to start on the project immediately.

"I am hoping we can have this job done before Winter weather sets in," Parente stated.

Plans last year called for work on the project to be started sometime this spring. However, at a meeting early last week with District Engineer Norbert G. Bell, City Council learned that a change in personnel in the Highways Department and the lack of consultants were holding up the project.

The Mayor made a special trip to meet with Lawler last week about having the proejct "assigned to consultants as soon as possible."

Accompanying Parente to the meeting were Senator Dent and Westmoreland County Assemblymen H. J. Maxwell, of Monessen, and Charles J Mills, of Greensburg.

British Cabinet In Urgent Session

LONDON (UP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan called his cabinet into urgent session today to consider the threat of a new explosion in the Middle East.

The British government feared Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's apparent intention to take over administration of the Gaza Strip might snap the uneasy truce on the Israeli-Egyptian border.

Dispute Raging Over Governor In Gaza Strip

By UNITED PRESS

Israel warned Egypt today that U. N. acceptance of an Egyptian governor in the Gaza Strip would be regarded by Israel as a breach of its withdrawal agreement.

Egypt announced Monday it had named Maj. Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif as administrative governor of Gaza and ordered him to take up his duties immediately.

Moshe Leshem, official spokesman for the Israeli Foreign Office, indicated in Jerusalem the entrance of Latif would free Israel of its obligations to pull Israeli soldiers out of Egyptian territory.

U.N. Assistant Secretary General Ralph Bunche conferred in Cairo with Egyptian officials in an effort to head off an Egyptian takeover of the Gaza Strip.

The Egyptian announcement it was ready to take over the Gaza Strip from the U.N. Emergency Forces brought a crisis between Egypt and the United Nations and worsened Israeli - Egyptian relations.

An Egyptian Return

Leshem told newsmen that if the Egyptian governor was accorded recognition or admitted into the strip it would be regarded as an Egyptian return to Gaza.

He recalled that Foreign Minister Golda Meir told the U.N. General Assembly that one of the "assumptions" under which Israeli troops withdrew was that Egypt would not return.

Leshem said the Egyptian move had caused "grave concern" in Israeli government circles although there was no official confirmation that Egypt's appointment of a governor meant the "taking over" of the administration of the strip.

Leshem would not disclose what action Israel might take and refused to be drawn out on further questions. But observers here believed it would be most difficult for the U.N. to prevent Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser from moving back into the strip.

It appeared the explosion point would be reached if Egypt sends troops into Gaza.

Jerusalem newspapers warned that the Israeli government may have to take "drastic action if the Egyptians return and unleash Fedayeen commandoes to attack Israel.

A London newspaper summed up the Israeli - Egyptian differences in a four-line headline: "Here They Go Again."

British Cabinet Meets

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan called in his cabinet for urgent consultations on the growing threat of a new Mideast explosion.

Britain feared the uneasy truce on the Israeli - Egyptian border might be shortlived in the face of Egypt's apparent intention to take over the Gada administration.

Britain also feared another hitch in the free flow of oil and the possibility of a renewed Egyptian blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba with its threat of war.

For the second day the best news came from the Suez Canal zone itself where a U.N. salvage team today began the three-week task of raising the sunken tug Edgar Bonnet midway through the 100-mile waterway.

Women in U. S. Called Unhappy

TOKYO (UP)—A panel of Japanese men agreed today that American women are the unhappiest women in the world.

For example, one of the panelists said, "In order to humor the men, they have to go on diets and dye their hair."

Newspaperman Hiroo Mukai said American women are unhappy because they have promoted equality of sexes so much.

"They can't expect men to pamper them any longer," he said, "so now American women are trying hard to make friends with men and be attractive to them."

Bill Will Give Pay Raises at Teachers' College

HARRISBURG (UP)—Instructors and administrators at the state's teachers' colleges would receive $500 annual increase in their minimum wages under bipartisan legislation introduced in the state Legislature Monday.

A bill sponsored by Sens. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong) and John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland) would provide the $500 annual increase in all salaries for professors, associate and assistant professors, instructor and administrators.

Professors would receive $6,000 a year, with $300 annual increments up to 10 years. Associate professors would receive $5,500 a year, with $250 annual increments up to 10 years. Qualifications for associate professorships would be increased by the bill from 60 to 70 hours of graduate credit.

Assistant professors would receive $5,000, with ten $200 annual increments, and instructors would receive a minimum of $4,500 with five $200 annual increments.

The minimum annual salary for co-operating teachers would be raised from $50 to $75 for each student under supervision. The office of dean would bring a maximum of $1,000 additional salary, and department heads would get up to $500.

Any professional employe, after reaching maximum salary for his rank, would be paid an additional $500 for each five years of service.

A companion bill, also authored by Pechan and Dent, would appropriate $750,000 to pay the new salaries for the next two years.

County Trusty Got Tired of Prison Cooking

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP) — Mark Bougher, 28, a trusty at the Westmoreland County Jail, was back in custody today after enjoying about five hours of freedom from his chores as the prison cook.

Bougher, of New Kensington, serving 18 months on a bad check charge, walked out of the jail kitchen Monday night about 7 p.m. Five hours later he was picked up in a New Kensington tavern and returned to the prison.

Warden William R. Hohn said Bougher had visited a sister in Saegertown, near Derry, shortly after his escape. Hohn said Bougher, regarded as an excellent cook by the inmates, then made his way to New Kensington.

Hohn said Bougher called him from the Fireside Tavern in New Kensington, but he was not in his office at the time. When informed that Bougher had called, Hohn telephoned New Kensington police who arrested the escaper and returned him here.

North Charleroi Boys Are 'Rescued'

Nine North Charleroi teenage boys are safe today after the harrowing experience of being lost in Delaney's Cave, near the Summit Hotel outside of Uniontown.

The boys were lost for 14½ hours before being rescued by State Police.

The youngsters, ranging in age from 14 to 19, went into the cave about 3 p. m. Sunday and were unable to find their way out. When they failed to return to their homes by midnight, parents notified police.

Officers found the youngsters' automobiles parked at the entrance to the cave at 2 a. m.

They found the frightened "explorers" about three and a half hours later. They had all of them out of the cave by 5:30 a. m.

Now that the hair-raising experience is over and the boys are safe in their homes, they said today,

"We weren't scared."

However, upon questioning by a reporter, most of the nine admitted they "were scared."

Raymond Santini, 18, said they spent most of their time trying to find the exit of the huge U-shaped mine, "but we kept going around and around and couldn't spot the opening."

He said the boys were "really hungry."

He added the boys said they

No Local Republicans Running for Offices

Tony Kovalitski, Monessen Republican chairman, said today he sees little or no chance of any Republicans running for local offices this year.

"I've approached a lot of people trying to get them interested," Kovalitski said, "but I just get the same story — it's no use."

The chairman said he is expecting a call today from Westmoreland County GOP Chairman Edwin A. Swink to discuss the situation. Swink is insisting that the Monessen committee members come up with at least one candidate for each local office.

"I don't see where he's going to get them," Kovalitski said. "People here figure the Republicans have been beaten so often, it's a waste of time to run. It's tough, but that's the way it is."

Candidates have until next Monday to file nominating petitions for the May 21 primary election. So far as he knows no Republican petitions are in circulation as yet, Kovalitski said.

Absence of at least one name for each place on the Republican primary ticket undoubtedly would set off a scramble among Democratic candidates, who would attempt to secure GOP nominations as well as those of their own party. This can be done through stickers or write-in votes.

If that happens, local election boards will have a major headache tabulating the votes after the polls close.

Democrats in Monessen now outnumber the Republicans by more than seven to one. There has not been an elected Republican office-holder at the City Hall or on the School Board for many years.

Pope Observes Anniversary

VATICAN CITY (UP) —Top church prelates and some 10,000 pilgrims crowded St. Peter's Basilicia today for a pontifical chapter celebrating the 18th anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius XII.

Fourteen cardinals, President Sean T. O'Kelly of Ireland, Spanish Foreign Minister Fernando Maria Castiella and numerous ambassadors for other countries were on hand for the occasion.

The traditional purple cloth of mourning during Lent was discarded for the Pope's most important personal anniversary of the year.

His 81st birthday and the 18th anniversary of his election as head of the world's 430 million Catholics passed without ceremony March 2.

The cardinals wore their scarlet robes today and the Pope himself donned white and golf robes and wore a crown of silvercloth.

Today's rites were the first of the year to be carried out in St. Peter's Basilica with the full splendor of papal ceremony.

Normally the pontifical chapter is held in the smaller Sistine Chapel, but in view of the large number of pilgrims expected it was switched to the huge basilica of the world's biggest church.

CLEAN STYLING — The uncluttered styling of a new electric range will achieve the built-in look in any kitchen — old or new. Because of the square design, it fits into cabinet arrangement with building-block simplicity. And, best of all, it boasts a king-size 30-inch oven.

Dulles Denounces Red China

CANBERRA (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles denounced Communist China as an international criminal today and said the United States will stand behind the Nationalist Chinese regime.

Dulles made the declaration in a "statement of information" to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) Council.

He said the United States "adheres steadfastly to the three main aspects of its China policy."

Under these aspects, Dulles said, the United States will continue to recognize the Republic of China, refuse to recognize the so-called Peoples Republic of China, and oppose seating the Peiping regime in the United Nations as accredited representative of "the Republic of China" listed in the U.N. Charter.

Dulles' statement countered persistent recent reports the United States intended to recognize the Communist Chinese regime.

Recognition of the Peiping regime in the United Nations would give Red China a seat on the U.N. Security Council as a permanent member with veto power, the secretary of state pointed out.

"It would be grotesque if that high responsibility were to be conferred upon a regime which itself stands condemned as an armed aggressor against the United Nations and which itself is a most conspicuous violator of justice and international law," he declared.

Firm Reports Big Earnings Increase

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The Baldwin - Lima - Hamilton Corp., today announced a net income of $3,731,913 for 1956 as compared with a 1955 income of $1,756,453.

The increase represented 86 cents a share for 1956 over 40 cents per share the previous year. Net income and special credit for 1955 including an unrequired income tax provision of prior years of $1,900,000, amounted to $3,656,453 or 84 cents a share.

Electric Ranges Are Reportedly Improving

Despite many improvements in the past few years, electric ranges keep getting better.

More offer pushbutton controls and most every manufacturer has 30-inch models. That's good news to the homemaker who likes to do lots of baking and roasting, but has a small kitchen. These models — only 30 inches wide — have a "king size" oven.

Many electric ranges have extra barbecuers, built-in griddles and units converting the well cooker into a deep-fry fryer. All these features are designed to make cooking easier, simpler and more pleasing than ever.

And then there is automatic control of surface cooking. Even if the homemaker forgets her cooking, the food will not burn or scorch. The surface unit will automatically keep a safe temperature — just like an electric oven.

Developments like this make electrical cooking excel other methods and are responsible for the millions of American homes now using electric ranges.

Whether a homemaker buys a range with pushbuttons or with switches, a 30-inch model or the standard 40-inch, there are "special" advantages in all electric ranges.

Chief among these are cleanliness. Because an electric range is flameless, there's no soot or fumes. Kitchen walls and curtains stay cleaner. In fact, for a stay-clean kitchen, nothing measures up to electric cooking. Electric ranges are also "cool cooking." Ovens are installed on all sides and, in surface cooking, the heat goes directly into the utensil.

Glee Club to Sing on Tuesday

The members of the Woman's Club of Belle Vernon will be guests of the Tuesday Evening Civic Club next Tuesday at the Vernon Junior High School auditorium.

The program will be provided by the California State Teachers College Men's Glee Club. The club will enact scenes from current Broadway shows and present a program of varied music.

Mrs. Donald Pender will be in charge of the opening prayer and Mrs. Anthony Jedrziewski, president of the host club, will preside.

The social committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Berkhouse, will be in charge.

Defense Club Plans Activities

The March session of the Belle Vernon Women's Defense Club was held in the Italian Hall on Market street with the president, Mrs. Adelmina Schmidt, in charge.

It was decided to conduct a candy sale to raise funds and Mrs. Lena Venneri was named chairman. Routine reports were given.

The club voted to purchase a basketball for the Italian Beneficial Society. The women also decided to assist the men in serving a ravioli supper on March 19.

A social hour followed and luncheon was served by Mrs. Bruna Tesi, Mrs. Louise Trozzo and Mrs. Mazie Reach.

Vernon Club in Benefit Game

The second event in a series of Dick Kadis Fund benefits was held yesterday by the Varsity Club of Vernon Junior High School. A girl's basketball game was staged and between halves there was a pie eating contest.

Last week the Vernon Junior High School basketball team played a masked team of students from the school and at half time there were relay races.

Both events have attracted good student audiences and more than $40 has been raised for the injured football player.

The Degree of Honor Protective Association will meet Friday evening in the lodge rooms on State street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dobson and daughter, Gladys Adele, of Broad avenue, visited in New Kensington on Sunday afternoon.

Barry Miller to Take Part In All-State Band Festival

Barry Miller, a Senior student at Bellmar High School, has been selected to represent the school in the All-State Band Western Division festival at Wilkinsburg High School Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Barry Miller

Richard L. Camp will be host and approximately 180 musicians will participate. Guest conductor will be Al G. Wright, director of the Purdue University Bands of Lafayette, Ind.

Registration is Thursday from 7 to 9 a. m. and the time will be spent in rehearsal with a concert to conclude the activity on Saturday evening.

The program for the concert will include America Forever march by James Colonna, Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral by Wagner, Chorale and Allelulia by Hanson, Fandango by Perkins, Flandria Overture by DeSmetsky, Four Episodes for Band by Morissey, Girl I Left Behind Me by Anderson, Italian in Algiers by Rossini, Mississippi Suite by Grofe, Slavonic Rhapsody No. 2 by Friedmann, The Nutmeggers by Caterling, King Henry by King, Stars and Stripes Forever by Sousa and National Anthem by Fillmore.

Barry, who plays clarinet with the Bellmar High School Band, has been trained by Ernest Dolfi, musical director for the Bellmarette Joint School District.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Miller, of Grant street, Belle Vernon, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Jurnak, of Monessen.

Last month, Barry, along with Steward Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wells, of Speer street, represented Bellmar in the Western District Band festival in Uniontown. While in Uniontown, the boys were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Fred E. Bryan. Dr. Bryan is superintendent of Uniontown schools.

Former Resident In School Show

Mr. and Mrs. John Neil, of Market street, have received word that their granddaughter, Frances Gasper, of Temple City, took part in a special talent show at Temple City High School of which she is a graduate.

Miss Gasper was soloist in the "Alma Mater's Show Time Talent Revue", which was directed by Bob Beachboard.

Miss Gasper is a former resident of Monessen and is now a student nurse at City of Hope Hospital in Pasadena.

Brownie Troop Hears Discussion Of Anniversary

Girls of Belle Vernon Brownie Troop 26 met Saturday at the Girl Scout Little House. The opening ceremony was under the direction of Sharen Wasicek, Eilenne Morrus, Maureen Woods and Kay Strenske.

The business sessions were conducted by Eilenne and Joanne Morris.

Mrs. Olga Miller, troop leader, read an article concerning "Juliette Low, Our Founder". Then she spoke on the anniversary of Girl Scouting, which is being observed this week. All girls were asked to wear uniforms.

This troop will have a display of arts and crafts at the F and S Five and Ten this week. Ruth Melnick was in charge of games and prizes were won by Janelle Williams and Eilenne Morris. The closing friendship circle was conducted by Mrs. Miller assisted by Mrs. Sadye Myers, committee mother.

Brownie Troop in Saturday Meeting

Linda Wagner and Neela Neil were in charge of the opening ceremonies of the meeting of Belle Vernon Troop 25 held Saturday afternoon at the Girl Scout Little House.

The girls joined in the Brownie Promise and the Smile Song. After the routine business session the election of patrol officers was conducted.

A 30 minute period was spent in playing games under the direction of Penny Hewitt and Lynn Ferguson.

Mrs. Sue Ringstad, leader, was in charge of the meeting with the assistance of Mrs. Patty Bell.

Protectors Club At Popp Home

The Protectors Club of the Belle Vernon Sisterhood Dames of Malta were entertained at the home of Mrs. Zelma Popp in East Belle Vernon.

The opening devotional period was by Mrs. Vera Schmidt and the business session was in charge of Mrs. Popp.

Plans were discussed for installation of Sisterhood officers April 10.

Games were played and Dorothy Adomaitis was in charge. Mrs. Mattie Hickey won the club prize and the guest prize was won by Helen Miller.

Luncheon was served and plans made to meet April 17 at the home of Mrs. Thelma Free, Speer street.

Girl Scouts in Meeting Here

Girl Scout Troop 57, Washington Township, met Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Cora Thrasher. The president, Joyce McCarthy, was in charge and the roll was called by Secretary Phyllis McCarthy, who also collected the dues.

Plans were made for the troop's part in the Court of Awards to be held at the Marion Junior High School on March 14.

Sylvia Thrasher was in charge of the games along with Yvonne Dupree.

Mrs. Thrasher is the troop leader.

Food Distribution Here Tomorrow

Charles Pabis, who is in charge of the distribution of surplus food in an area of Fayette county, has announced that distribution will take place tomorrow afternoon between 1 and 3 p. m.

Places of distribution will be Belle Vernon borough building, Fairhope fire hall and Arnold City Polish Hall.

Pabis has announced that a re-registration will be arranged for the first week in April.

Bellmar Students Hold Kadis Day

The Dick Kadis Fund has been supplemented by $332.89 by students in Bellmar High School. Under the direction of the Student Council the students collected last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and on Saturday they staged a Kadis Tag Day.

The collection was successful because of cooperation of people throughout the Bellmarette Joint School District.

Ann Fritsky has returned to her home in Belle Vernon and is recovering from surgery performed at Monongahela Memorial Hospital.

Choir rehearsal will be held this evening at St. Sebastian Church at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shields and children, Edward, David, William, Debby and Denise, of New Brighton visited over the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Franceschi, of Grant street. Mrs. Shields and Mrs. Franceschi are sisters.

New Castle Editor To Speak Saturday

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. (UP)—Bart Richards, assistant editor of the New Castle News, will speak Saturday at the Citizenship Clearings House for Western Pennsylvania conference at Westminster College.

Crosby's Son, London Teenager, Are Romancing

LONDON (UP)—A London tabloid today reported a budding romance between Bing Crosby's son Gary and a London teenager.

The Daily Sketch said that 23-year-old crooner Gary met 19-year-old Barbara Windsor at a Mayfair nightclub during a visit here. A photograph showed her as a dark-eyed brunette and quite attractive.

Sunday night Barbara blew kisses at Gary as he boarded a plane for Germany and the newspaper quoted her as saying:

"He was sad to be leaving and I'm afraid he's left me with a bit of a broken heart."

"I wouldn't say I'm in love with him," the pretty teenager said, "you'd better call it a crush. But we both hope we'll be able to meet again."

Gary Crosby did a one week singing engagement at the London Palladium while on leave from the U.S. Army.

Churches to Build Radio Transmitter

NEW YORK (UP)—The National Council of Churches will build a 100,000-watt radio transmitter in the Middle East to beam programs to that area's varied peoples and religions.

The transmitter will give Protesant churches "a really adequate Christian voice in the Near East and the Moslem world for the first time," Dr. W. Burton Martin said Sunday.

The power of the proposed transmitter will equal the Vatican Radio, now the most powerful radio station operated by any religious group.

What, No Ears?

PASSAIC, N.J. (UP)—A local department store is looking for a woman who squeaks like a rabbit. If her squeak is authentic she will be chosen to play the Easter Bunny at the store for one month.

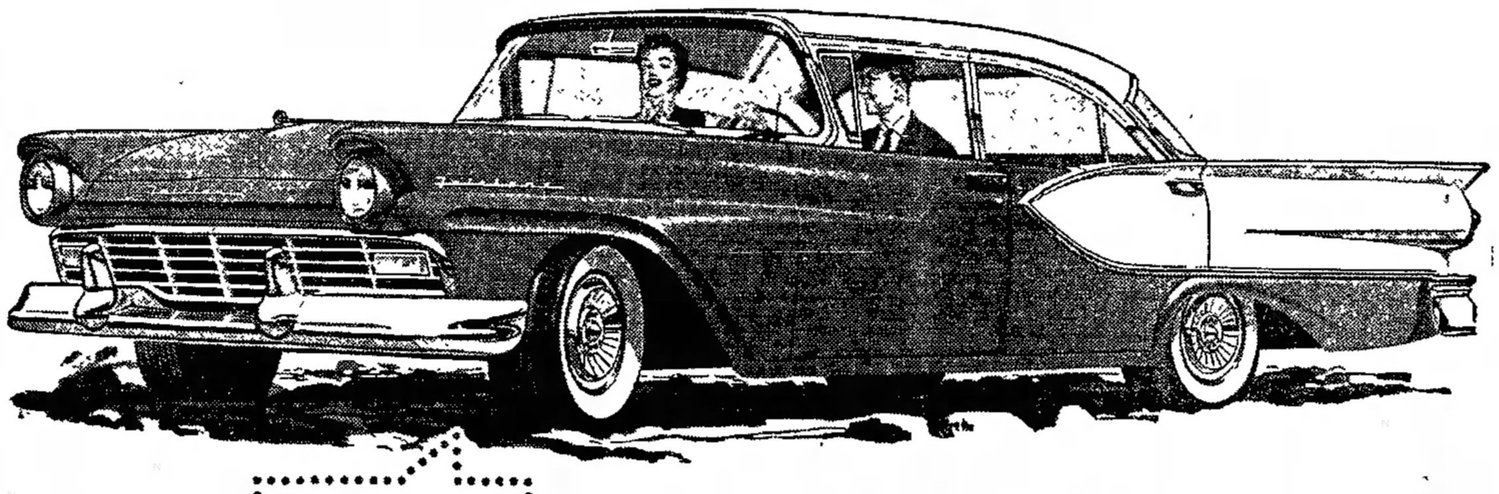
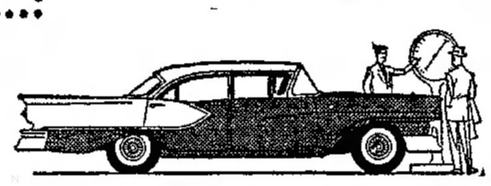
How come the new Ford rides so smooth and solid?

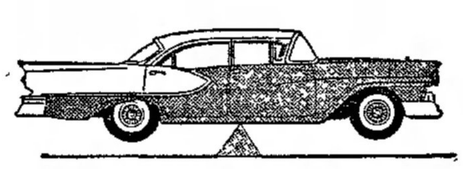


It's the new inner Ford that gives you a big-car ride at low Ford prices

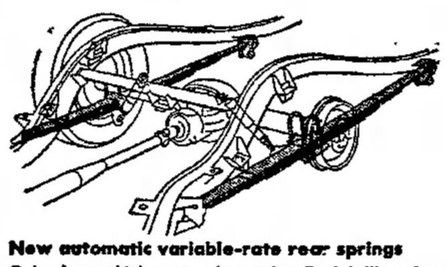
• Folks just naturally love Ford's longer, lower silhouette. And they love Ford's new, more powerful Thunderbird V-8's and Mileage Maker Six. But the thing that's really got 'em buzzing is Ford's new kind of ride. In the new kind of Ford these vital riding features team up to give you the smoothest going in the whole ride world. They're demonstrated elsewhere on this page.



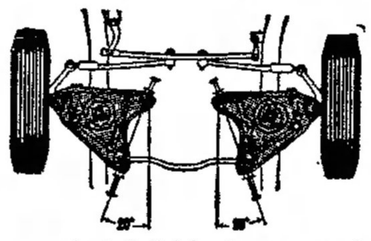
More weight and length
Head for the roughest road in the new kind of Ford. Notice how the biggest bumps lose their "thump"! One reason is that this biggest, longest, heaviest Ford has the extra "beef" to give a smooth, road-hugging ride.



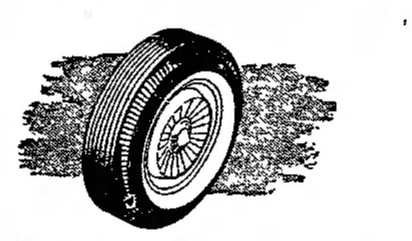
Better balance
One of Ford's nicest back-road habits is to make believe the rough spots aren't there. Proper weight distribution and precise balancing let Ford iron out bumps far better than many of the higher-priced cars.



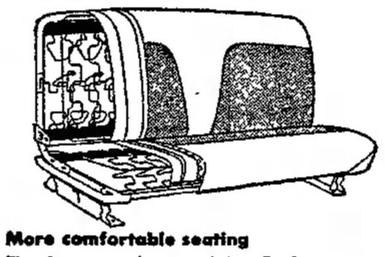
New automatic variable-rate rear springs
Going from a highway to a byway in a Ford, is like going from satin to silk. New design allows Ford's rear springs to "soften" or "stiffen" depending on road conditions. You get a smooth ride all the way!



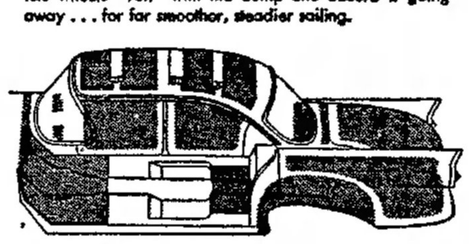
New swept-back Ball-Joint front suspension
Ford's new, stronger front suspension is designed to soak up the shock of rough roads. The new swept-back design lets wheels "roll" with the bump and absorb it going away . . . for far smoother, steadier sailing.



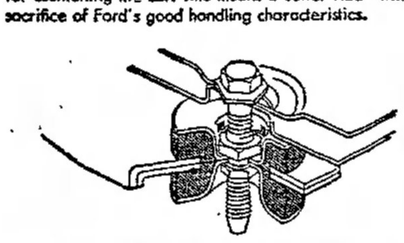
New lower-pressure tires
Even Ford's tires are new for a better ride! Although they require less air pressure, they hold about 17% more air for cushioning the car. This means a softer ride—without sacrifice of Ford's good handling characteristics.



More comfortable seating
There's no sag when you sit in a Ford . . . even on long trips. Comfort-contoured seats, rigidly anchored, have advanced springing for greater comfort and longer life.



More body insulation
Ford has more body insulation—protection against weather, dust, and noise—than any car in the low-price field. You ride through city traffic in library-like quiet.



No metal-to-metal chassis and body contact
Only Ford in its field uses 20 Cushion Quiet rubber body mounts . . . more than any other low-priced car. It all adds up to a smoother, quieter riding car.

Try the new kind of ride in the new kind of FORD

Hoover Warns Red Party Still Alive in U. S.

WASHINGTON (UP) — FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover warned today the U. S. Communist Party is still "part and parcel of the world-wide Communist conspiracy."

"It is still responsive to the will of Moscow," he said. "It still works for the destruction of the American way of life and it still is dedicated to the building of a Soviet United States.'

Hoover told the Senate internal security subcommittee in a statement that the U.S. Communist Party used its party convention last month "to convey the public impression that it no longer is subservient to Moscow."

He said the Communist move was part of a program "to thwart future prosecutions by the Department of Justice.'

But he said a study of the convention's deliberations shows that the "Communists still are masters of the 'big lie.' "

"Their double talk, duplicity, and semantic gyrations make them the most dangerous and proficient masters of propaganda in the civilized world," he said.

"The Communist Party before and after its 1957 convention is part and parcel of the world-wide Communist conspiracy.

'Cloak of Secrecy'

Hoover said the American Communists at the convention hid behind a "cloak of secrecy" — "despite the party claims that it was being covered by the largest battery of newspapermen in the party's history."

Newsmen were not admitted to witness the convention he said, but received a pre-cooked briefing from a man who has been a card-carrier since 1932, Simon W. Gerson.

Hoover listed as evidence that the Communist Party in America has not changed colors these highlights of the 1957 meeting:

The party continued the majority of its old leadership; it retained the old name; it reaffirmed its adherence to the basic concept of Marxism - Leninism; it reaffirmed its acceptance of "proletarian internationalism; it refused to take a stand against the "Soviet rape of Hungary" or the "tyranny and semi-Semitism in the Soviet Union;' it did not pass any resolution declaring its independence of the Soviet Union.

Hoover said the convention was designed to hoodwink the public with a "new look."

"We should judge the Communist Party for what it is, not what it says it is, but by its deeds," he said.

Special Labor Fund Limits In the House

HARRISBURG (UP)—The House today received Senate - approved legislation to regulate the special administration fund in the state Labor and Industry Department and limit it to $75,000.

The bill sponsored by Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter) which was extensively revised in debate on the Senate floor last week, provides that all fines and penalties collected from employers for violation of unemployment compensation regulations would be used for expenditures "which are found not to be chargeable against federal grants."

Previously the fund was administered solely by the secretary of the department. An investigation of the fund, amounting to about $1,700,000, last January resulted in the dismissal of former department Secretary John R. Torquato.

The new legislation would provide for administration of the fund by the state treasurer. All funds over the $75,000 limit would be automatically transferred to the Unemployment Compensation Fund.

Israel itself was looking to the United States to take the lead in the developing crisis that could revert once again to open warfare.

He Just Wanted To Call Mother

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Six-year-old Vernon Dowdy, becoming frightened when his mother left him alone for a few moments at a downtown bus stop Monday night pulled a lever on box to call her back.

Instead of his mother, five fire trucks, a squad car, a light unit, a battalion chief and several police cruisers responded. Rush hour traffic quickly was snarled.

GOP Tax Package Is Ready for Passage

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Republican majority in the state Senate today readied for final passage this week its "no new tax" program for Pennsylvania over Democratic objections of "steamroller tactics."

A package of eight bills which would put approximately $995-million in the General Fund and $300-million in the Motor License Fund was reported from the GOP controlled Senate Finance Committee Monday and immediately placed in position for a final vote tomorrow. The committee made only minor amendments to the bills, mostly for "clarifying" purposes.

The committee kept the House amendment abolishing the one-cent "emergency" tax on gasoline which would reduce the state gas tax to five-cents after May 31.

The one-cent levy, imposed by the 1955 Legislature to pay for repairs to roads damaged by flood and originally scheduled to expire next September, was dropped by the Republicans over the protests of Gov. George M. Leader who contended that the $60-million revenue it produces was needed to enable the state to participate fully in the federal interstate road building program.

Republican leaders, however, said a surplus of $60-million already exists in the Motor Fund and that the state can build "every mile" of highway alloted to it under the matching funds program without an extra penny tax on gasoline.

The tax package also includes extension of the sales tax for two more years without the stamp plan method of collection; reenactment of the 6 per cent corporate net income tax, the 1 per cent realty transfer tax, and the 14-mill tax on public utilities' gross receipts.

A one cent "temporary" tax on cigarets, also imposed by the 1955 Legislature for flood relief and scheduled to expire May 31, was retained to keep the levy at five-cents. The proceeds from the extra penny, however, would be transferred from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund on June 1.

Quick passage of the bills was opposed in the Senate, as in the House when they were approved two weeks ago, by the Democratic members.

Senate Minority Leader John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland) asked the Republicans to hold up on passage of the bills until the Senate members had an opportunity to study amendments made in committee.

"There are major amendments being made," Dent said, "the depth of which can't be measured by a quick reading across the desk. Let's see how big the grab is. Are we reducing the number of people paying taxes while the cost of government is rising?".

Dent, a member of the Finance Committee, said that no committee members except Sen. Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster), chairman, saw the amendments prior to the brief committee meeting held during the session to approve report of the bills.

"Never have I seen such steamroller tactics," he said. "It is impossible for us to have any amendments prepared by Wednesday—unless it is agreed that any amendments we propose will be automatically defeated by the juggernaut of votes on the other side."

Valley Christian Churches Plan Men's Fellowship

An organization meeting has been planned for men of the Christian churches of the Monongahela Valley this evening at the First Christian Church of Monessen.

The purpose is to form a Christian Men's Fellowship in the Monongahela Valley.

A chicken and biscuit dinner will be served at 6:30 to open this laymen's get-together and men from Belle Vernon, Charleroi, Fayette City, Phillipsburg, Allenport and California will be guests.

The Monongahela Church will provide the presiding officer and guest speaker, the Rev. William P. Taylor. The Fayette City church will provide the song leader, men from Belle Vernon and California will be in charge of the offertory and from Charleroi, the devotions. Local men will also participate.

Heavy Damage in East Liberty Business Fire

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A general alarm fire burned out the block-long, three-story Commerce Bldg. in the heart of the East Liberty business section during the night.

Fire Chief Stephen Adley in a preliminary estimate set the damage in excess of $200,000, but the total loss was expected to soar as owners of businesses, offices and a dance hall housed in the structure complete surveys.

The owner of the Joyce - McClements Restaurant on the ground floor said dmage there alone might reach the $200,000 figure. Two adjoining buildings, containing another restaurant and a butcher shop, were damaged by smoke and water.

The fire was discovered shortly before 8 p.m. and six alarms were sounded within an hour. The blaze was declared under control at 12:20 a. m., but firemen were still pouring water into the smouldering wreckage of the building this morning.

A dozen firemen suffered from smoke inhalation and were treated at the scene. Three women in a building nearby also were affected and were given oxygen.

The general alarm moved virtually every piece of fire equipment in the city. A volunteer company in Donora also sent equipment.

More than 100 patrolmen were sent to the area to handle the traffic tie-up in the area, one of the busiest in the city. Six Pittsburgh Railways street car lines had to be re-routed.

While firemen were fighting the blaze, police received three telephone calls from a man who said he had started the fire and also was going to set fire to the nearby Highland Hotel. A police squad searched the hotel but found nothing.

The Commerce Building fire was the fifth general alarm blaze in the city since Jan. 22, when the Bellefield Vocational School for Girls was destroyed. Since then two downtown business buildings and another school have been hit by six-alarm fires.

Four Local Workers Promoted

Named at Pittsburgh Steel Co.

Promotions of four employes at Pittsburgh Steel Company's Monessen works were announced today by Works Manager Edwin A. Dawson. They are:

Donald T. Skekel, 415 McKee avenue, Monessen, supervisor of employment.

Gilbert L. Holmes, 116 Middle street, Fayette City, assistant supervisor, safety and police.

John B. Sucevic, 1218 Schoonmaker avenue, Monessen, fire marshal of Monessen works.

Andrew T. MacLaren, 1188 State road, Monessen, a sergeant in the plant protection force.

A native of Monessen, Skekel joined Pittsburgh Steel in 1935 as a loader in the specialty tube department. Subsequently, he was a galvanizing department craneman, an inspector in the same department, an open hearth pitman, a production planning clerk and then schedules supervisor.

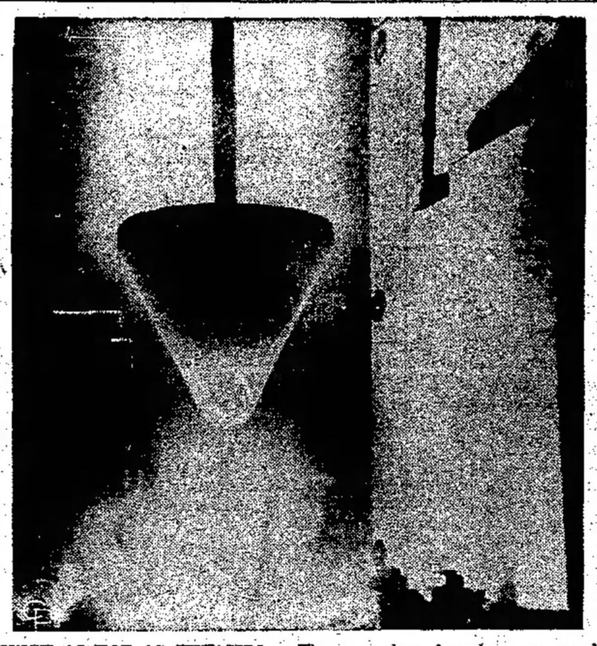
He entered the industrial relations department in 1949. At the time of his promotion, Skekel was serving as a pension counselor. He and his wife, Dorothy, have two sons, Donald, Jr., and Ted Skekel.

Holmes, a native of Braddock, joined Pittsburgh Steel in 1918 as a scrap puller in the rod mills. He transferred to the plant protection department in 1930 and has served for the past six years as a sergeant. He and his wife, Helen, have six children, all married.

Sucevic, a native of Monessen, started with Pittsburgh Steel in 1925 as a die cleaner in the wire mill. At the time of his promotion, Sucevic was a safety inspector at Monessen.

He joined the Monessen Fire Department in 1943, serving as captain for three years and president, also for three years. He has completed a number of fire prevention and fire fighting courses and is an active Red Cross first aid instructor. He and his wife, Mary, have a son, John B. Sucevic.

MacLaren, born in Scotland, joined Pittsburgh Steel in 1929 as a laborer. He transferred to plant protection in 1934 and was serving as a gateman at the time of his promotion. He has a daughter, Janet.



TWICE AS HOT AS THE SUN — The cone-shaped carbon arc used in University of Chicago experiments to create temperature of 25,660 degrees, more than twice as hot as the sun's 11,250-degree surface heat, is shown about to be lowered into the jet of atomic vapor to produce the heat. The arc employs a water-stabilized electric technique. Atomic explosions create higher temperatures, but the heat lasts only a fraction of a second. This heat was sustained for as long as three minutes. Arc will be used in research.

No Police Force in Forward

Residents in Forward Township will be without a regular police force after Thursday unless Township Commissioners change their minds about disbanding the two-man force as an economy measure.

The Commissioners voted to dissolve the force March 15, but the door has been left open to retain the two-man force "if the public wants it."

Notices of termination of services effective Friday, were sent out last week to Police Chief George Hines and Patrolman Anthony Piscitelli. Hines has been a member of the force about five years at $325 monthly, and Piscitelli a patrolman at a monthly salary of $300.

The township covers about 21 square miles. Population is about 4,000.

'Interest of People'

One Commissioner, Albert Repasky, said the elimination decision was made "in what we believed was in the interest of the people and for the good of the township."

He added the Commissioners felt "we didn't have any need for a police force at present since there seems to be very little activity for the force.

"By eliminating our police, the State Police will come in on regular patrols and we can put the two-mill tax revenue toward road repair," he said.

Under the present tax structure, two-mills of the five-mill levy are set aside to pay for police protection. The remaining three mills are used for general township purposes, including road repairs.

Repasky said the Commissioners plan to utilize the services of a constable and deputy constable as peace officers for the sprawling township, adding that they also were considering the placement of patrol-women at schools in the section.

Chief Hines declined to make a statement on the issue today except to label the action "a political move." He said petitions calling for the reinstatement of the force are being widely circulated, and added that he has requested a special hearing on the move.

PRIZES ATTRACT CROWDS AT A&P — Hundreds of gifts were distributed at the grand re-opening of the completely remodeled A&P Food Store at 701 Donner avenue in Monessen this morning. The store gave out apple pies to the first 300 customers. Long lines of customers began forming almost an hour before the store opened at 9 a. m. Tomorrow the store will give a sample bottle of pink face cream to the first 1,000 customers. In all, the awards program will cover 17 days climaxing with a grand prize of a color television set on Saturday, March 30.

Trucker Killed Near Donegal

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP) — Arthur Tichacek, about 36, Morocco, Ind., was killed today when the automobile convoy truck he was driving crashed through a guard rail on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Donegal and caught fire.

State police said they believed Tichacek was killed in the crash and his body charred by the fire which destroyed the truck and its cargo at an estimated loss of $20,000.

The Clark Transport Co., Chicago Heights, Ill., owner of the truck, said Tichacek was enroute from Baltimore to Chicago at the time of the crash. Police said the victim apparently dozed off and failed to negotiate a curve.

State Takes Steps to Regulate Use of Airboats on the Rivers

HARRISBURG (UP) — The state Fish Commission was slated to hold a public hearing today for the purpose of drafting safety regulations to govern the use of controversial airboats on state waterways.

Robert C. Glover, chief of conservation and education for the commission, said invitations to attend the conference were sent to both manufacturers and dealers in the shallow-draft, high-speed craft.

The boats, powered by aircraft-type propellers mounted on the stern, are particularly suited for use in shallow rivers, such as the Susquehanna and Monongahela, both by fishermen and speedboat enthusiasts. With an average draft of two inches and powered by engines ranging up to 30 horsepower, the airboats have a maximum speed of between 40-50 miles per hour.

Glover said the boats came to the attention of the commission late last spring when fish wardens noted that the craft, in many cases home-made, were without safety guards on the propellers. The commission adopted a regulation calling for adequate safeguards on the propellers and their use was halted by the wardens.

Protests from owners and at least one manufacturer against the regulation claimed that a safety shield would cut the efficiency of the propeller. The commission regulation calling for safeguards did not specify what form of shield was required. No arrests or fines were made in connection with the regulation last year.

"Air boats are a relatively new thing in the state and localized to the Susquehanna and other shallow streams. Because they are new there are no provisions in the motor boat code covering the operation or safeguarding of them," Glover said. "We feel that a guard should be put around those big propellers to protect anyone who should get close to them. Our position is that the boats should have guards which would hamper the operator to a minimum but would provide adequate safety."

Glover said that two out-of-state manufacturers of air drives, who were invited to the hearing, sell the units with fan-type safety shields on the propellers. He said the firms apparently made a compromise between efficiency and safety and pointed out that the Fish Commission sought to do the same thing in its regulation.

"We are faced with the responsibility of setting up regulations in the best interests of all from the standpoint of safety in recreation. In this case we are faced with the problem of protecting people from themselves," Glover said.

The commission was also expected to draft regulations governing the speed and operation of the airboats in the vicinity of bathing beaches and boat anchorages.

Vaccine Depleted

Overflow Crowd Attends Sports Rally Sunday

An overflow crowd attended the Sports Rally held Sunday in conjunction with the Webster Community Service at Webster Methodist Church.

Principal speaker was Gene Stanley, former television wrestler known as "Mr. America" who has entered the religious teaching ranks.

The program opened with the singing of "I Was Once a Sinner", with Nick Joseph directing the 45-voice choral group.

The meeting was in charge of the Rostraver High School basketball team with Richard Cloherty as leader and in charge of introductions.

Three hymns, "I Love to Tell the Story", "Jesus Saves" and "Leaning on the Everlasting Arms". Mr. Joseph directed and June Greenwood accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Odessa Smith performed at the organ before and after the meeting. Eight boys from the team gave scripture readings and others were ushers. Taking part were Dick Shaffer, Richard Carter, Ronald Sholtis, Clyde Kuhn, Walter Karbowsky. Don Fustich, Harry Hale, Gerald Angelis, Don Jugan, James Bush and Richard Sonaflet.

The Sutherland Trio sang "Were You There", the Rev. J. Nelson Jackaway offered prayer and Dick Shaffer an offertory prayer.

The guest speaker's topic was "Christ Can Take the Worst of Sinners and Convert Them into a Winner of Souls". He also told his life story.

The Youth Choir sang "Precious Lord" with Pat Jones singing the solo part. Nancy Stacy was accompanist.

The offering, according to Mr. Stanley, will be used to send underpriviliged children to Pinebrook for a summer vacation.

The program was planned by Gordon Rutherford.

Visitation Committee Planned at Meeting

A meeting was held Sunday at the home of the Rev. John Shell. Theme was "Commission on Missions and Evangelism".

The group mapped plans for a visitation committee which will visit the homes of members who have not been attending services and also to interest new members in joining the church.

Attending the meeting were Peg Sarber, Thomas Rea, Flora Foulk, Elaine Ahlborne, Flora Lynn, Madge Hamilton and Mr. Shell.

Church Members at Prayer Meeting

Several members of Pricedale Union Church attended the World Day of Prayer Friday at Marion Presbyterian Church. They were: Clarence, Dorothy and Marilynne Bush, Gwen Wood, Goldie Perney, Mary Echart and Kathryn Foor. Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Foor had part in the program. The Rev. George Guest is pastor of both churches.

Meetings Set

A committee meeting of the scouts will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Rehoboth Church. The meeting is being held to make plans for a new troop. Any men in the area interested in scouting are asked to be present.

The Alpha and Omega Class of Rehoboth Church will meet tonight with Cecilia Kunkle as leader. Her topic will be "The Board of National Missions". Linda Cinereski and Edith Symons will be hostesses.

Originally scheduled for tonight, the St. Anne's Altar Society of Fellsburg will meet next Tuesday instead.

The choir of Pricedale Union Church will hold practice tomorrow evening in the church following prayer service.

Services Held by Methodist Churches

The Webster Methodist Church combined with Fells Methodist Church on Friday for the World Day of Prayer Service, sponsored by Fells Women's Society of Christian Servicee. Dallas Winchell was organist.

Mrs. Martha Pythyon presided at the meeting and Etta Ahlborn, of Webster Church, gave a scripture reading. A moment of silent prayer followed for refugees in Hungary. After a prayer by Eleanor Naylor, responsive reading was led by Florence Lynn and Mrs. W. S. Van Ryn presented the "Thought for the Day". The Fells Choir sang "God So Loved the World". A sentence of prayer and the missionary benediction closed the meeting.

Ushers were Vic Shearer and Grace Porter.

Pastor in Dayton

The Rev. George Guest left Sunday to visit in Canton, O., where his daughter, Mrs. Lois Pearson, underwent throat surgery yesterday. Mrs. Guest had gone to Dayton earlier.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Webster Methodist Church will meet tonight.

Want Initials on Your License Plates?

HARRISBURG (UP)—Motorists who want their initials on their vehicle license plates would pay an extra $5 for the privilege under legislation passed in the state Senate Monday.

A bill sponsored by state Sens. Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford) John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland) and George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) would impose the added fee on all special plates except those issued for official purposes. The bill, approved unanimously in the Senate, now goes to the House.

Dionne Quint To Be Married Next September

TORONTO (UP) — The Toronto Telegram reported today that Cecile, one of the Dionne Quintuplets, plans to get married next September.

The newspaper reported in a dispatch from Montreal that the official announcement may come on May 28, the 23rd birthday of the four surviving Quints. The fifth Quint, Emilie, died in 1954.

The newspaper said Cecile would marry Philippe Langlois, 25, whom she has known for the past three years.

It was reported that Cecile's sisters favor the match and the news already has been broken to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, who live in Callender, Ont. The four Quints now share a $200-a-month apartment in a Montreal suburb and have equal shares in a $1 million trust fund.

Whooping Cough Still Has not Been Licked

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WITH vaccine capable of providing immunity from whooping cough available for virtually every child we shouldn't be troubled with this disease any more.

Unfortunately, though, we are Too many parents fail to have their children inoculated or forget to have them given periodic booster shots.

And even mothers who think their youngsters may have had protective injections frequently become worried when they begin to cough

So I think a review of the symptoms of this extremly contagious disease is in order.

Whooping chough can occur at any time of the year and can attack anybody, no matter what his age

Children under the age of five are most susceptible. However, the disease is most serious when it strikes a child of one year or younger.

Generally, it developes within one to two weeks after the victim has been exposed to the disease It begins like an ordinary cold and frequently is mistaken for nothing more serious

The victim probably will develope a slight fever, a running nose and a cold that has a tight cough The cough will continue to deepen until it developes the traditional whoop The patient sobs as he breaths in This is followed by an extended cough, sometimes lasting for a minute or more

Usually these coughing spasms are so severe that the face becomes deep red or purple, the veins on the face and scalp swell and the eyes water

Repeated coughing will quickly weaken a child It may be several months before his strength is fully regained

The best advice I can give any parent is to prevent whooping cough from attacking your child by having him inoculated.

Your doctor can inject an alum-precipitated pertussis vaccine when your youngster is only two to three months old For children over six months, there is a plain pertussis vaccine.

A diphtheria toxoid and pertussis vaccine combination also is available for children over the age of six months and for booster shots.

Movie Actress Starts Trend in Backless Dresses

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Vikki Dougan said today she simply can't understand why she's been blasted by some shocked filmsters for merely starting a new fashion —back cleavage.

"I'm very sensitive," said Vikki tossing back her long golden brown hair.

She took off her coat and turned her back.

"See?" she demanded. "What's wrong with that?"

With any other person this might be dull, but when Vikki turned her back to Hollywood it was downright electrifying.

Vikki has been described as the girl most likely to get a cold in her sacroiliac

One gossip columnist blasted the 22-year-old New Yorker and another announced she was starting a petition to make Vikki burn her daring dresses.

"I don't think I'm bad or evil," pouted the actress as she sat with her sacroiliac exposed to the breezes. "I don't want to be arrested or stoned and that's what I expect next!"

Van Doren Dethroned By Lawyer and King

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP)—Charles Van Doren, whose amazing knowledge catapulted him into television fame, was dethroned Monday night by a woman lawyer and the king of Belgium.

To console him, however, the 31-year-old Columbia College instructor had $129,000 — the remains of his winnings after his defeat by Mrs. Vivienne Nearing and the largest pool ever raked in on a single quiz program in the history of television.

William Ewald

Mrs. Nearing not only knocked the $4,400-a-year instructor off the show, but she took a $14,000 bite out of the $143,000 pile Van Doren had amassed over 13 previous appearances on the quiz show, NBC-TV's "Twenty One." Van Doren, son of Pulitzer Prize poet Mark Van Doren, had built up his stake by defeating 13 other challengers.

Van Doren said after the show that he expected to keep "somewhat more than $30,000 ..about 35,000, maybe" of his $129,000

Van Doren, who had tied Mrs. Nearing in three previous rounds on the quiz game which is based roughly on the card game, "blackjack," tripped on a question about kings.

Mrs. Nearing correctly named the kings of Denmark (Frederick), Norway (Haakon), Sweden (Gustavus), Belgium (Baudouin), Jordan (Hussein) and Iraq (Feisal).

Van Doren got them all except the king of Belgium. Sweating visibly and clutching a handkerchief, Van Doren mumbled, "That's Leopold's son. . I know his name. . I know his name."

As time ran out, the 31-year-old instructor said: "I guess I don't know him. I know it's not right, but—Leopold."

"I was trying to out-maneuver a maneuverer," laughed Mrs Nearing after the show. "I guess I did."

The Hard Facts of The Nation's Finances

MEMBERS of Congress, especially Republicans, are reported to be receiving a lot of mail these days from constituents and taxpayers who think the time has come when federal spending and income taxes must be reduced, no matter what.

Many of the protests are coming, it is said, from Republican voters who describe themselves as disillusioned. They say they thought that, by voting Republican, they were voting for reduced federal spending and lower taxes — and here President Eisenhower, the Republican President, is proposing the largest peacetime budget in history and no tax reduction is contemplated.

If this is "modern Republicanism", the letter-writers say, we don't want it. It's too much like the New Deal. Give us the old-fashioned Republicanism.

It is perhaps too early to assess the political significance of this protest. It seems to have been inspired to a considerable extent by strong newspaper editorial campaigns in some sections of the country where readers are being implored, as a matter of national survival, to "write your congressman" and tell him you want the budget cut and taxes reduced — or else. A lot of folks apparently are doing just that, and if enough of them do it and if they do it long enough, it is going to have some effect without any question. congressmen being very sensitive as a rule about what they read in their mail.

* * *

WE ARE inclined at times to take this view that we must begin soon to have some budget and tax reduction if we are not to impoverish ourselves through the medium of our own government. It is a proper statement, we think, that when a government year after year is taking upwards of one-fourth of everything its people earn, it is taking far too much, and this probably cannot go on indefinitely. Which makes it mighty tempting to join the clamor for tax reduction — now, at once, immediately, and never mind the consequences.

Sober second thought, however, requires members of Congress to look more closely at the problem. And when they do that, they quickly discover that, of this huge budget which President Eisenhower has proposed and which has inspired the letters-to-Congress campaign, less than 10 cents of every dollar is earmarked for the routine operation of the department—executive, legislative and judicial.

And what about the rest? Well, over 62 cents of it goes for defense — for keeping America strong enough to be free. And the remainder goes for interest on the national debt, benefits to war veterans, agricultural supports and grants to the states.

So it would seem very much in order for a congressman who receives a letter from an irate voter demanding tax reduction to ask the voter where he wants to start to cut, and those newspapers who are inspiring the letters — they have a particular responsibility, it seems to us, to be specific.

* * *

THE COMPELLING fact of our national fiscal life (and any member of Congress can cite you chapter and verse) is that the budget very largely represents the cost of past wars and of preparation for possible future wars, plus the so-called "benefits" and subsidies and "aid" which pour from the federal treasury in an ever-swelling tide. And when it comes to these latter expenditures, the average citizen is all for reducing the other fellow's "benefits" and the other state's "aid" but never his own.

So it comes down to just this: We are going to have no significant reduction in federal taxes until either (1) the world is at peace or (2) our people are ready to give up the notion that the federal treasury is an inexhaustible storehouse of milk and honey. And it won't make more than a whisker of difference how many letters are written to congressmen or whether a "modern Republican" or a Jeffersonian Democrat happens to be in the White House.

Fine Improvement

A MOST striking improvement in Monessen's downtown district has been made by Local 1229 of the United Steelworkers union. Both the interior and exterior of Local 1229's headquarters building at Donner avenue and Eighth street have been refurbished at a cost of over $100,000.

The addition of bowling alleys and air conditioning have been the major improvements to the interior, and of course these are of primary importance to the members. But we think the general public appreciates what has been done on the exterior, making the building one of the handsomest in the city, a real credit to the community as well as to Local 1229.

Merry-Go-Round—

White House Can't Find Job for Hall

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It was no accident that the conservative leaders of the Grand Old Party gave a reception for ex-Chairman Len Hall in the Senate caucus room where it would get as much publicity as possible.

Mr. Pearson

It was probably also no accident that President Eisenhower that same morning kissed off a press conference query with a laconic comment that if "a suitable post" became available for Len Hall, "I have no doubt his name would occur to me."

The timing was accidental, but not Ike's calculated reply.

For some time, GOP leaders ha been reaching a slow boil over the treatment given the man who, more than any other, first maneuvered Eisenhower into running again, kept the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket intact, and piloted it through the '56 campaign. It was Hall, who, after Eisenhower was stricken in Denver, met the press and without the faintest idea the President would ever recover, boldly told newsmen there would be no change, Ike would run.

Hall has confessed privately that he was traveling on sheer nerve. He knew Mamie was dead opposed. He knew brother Milton was opposed. But gradually he built up a self-confidence in Eisenhower and a feeling that it was only natural for a man with a heart attack to run for President.

Senators Knowland (Calif.) and Bridges (N.H.), with ex-Speaker Joe Martin (Mass.), remembering this, have seen four months go by since the election with no job gesture for Len Hall. That's one reason they organized the gala party and invited Ike to be there.

Ike's Cold Feet

What cooled the White House on Hall after Nov. 6 was that the boys around Ike began to take a good look at testimony before the House Government Operations Committee regarding Len's influencing of government contracts. The Democrats were unable to get the press and public to pay much attention to this in '56. But the House Government Operations Committee has begun to reinvestigate the sworn testimony that Hall held up a contract for the government's Nicaro nickel plant in Cuba until officials of the Frederick H. Snare Co. contributed $7,000 to the Republican party.

This is against the law. Hall was asked to testify by Congressman Jack Brooks of Texas, but so far has been about as busy as Dave Beck — though not so absent.

On top of this, the White House learned that Hall's brother-in-law, C. Malcolm Dowsey, had been indicted in Potsdam, N. Y., on a charge of forgery. Allegedly he forged his wife's name to a $2,500 mortgage and a $2,500 bond. This does not reflect on Hall. But with guilt-by-association having been made popular by Nixon and McCarthy, it's feared the Democrats may make the most of it.

All this was behind Ike's press conference reply: "I have no doubt his name would occur to me."

Those unresponsive words, carried immediately by press and the political grapevine to Capitol Hill, raised the hackles still further on GOP necks. Warned of this reaction, the President went all out to praise Hall in a statement at the congressional reception. But significantly, he boosted Len for governor of New York, not for a job inside his own administration.

White Tie and Tails

Congressmen who attended the annual White House reception last week were starched, prim, and proper. But some had resurrected their white ties and tails from the moths and were hoping no one would see the moth holes.

Rep. Bernard W. "Pat" Kearney (R., N.Y.) looked especially elegant. But only his secretary, Sally Liddle, knew that he had something in common with Adlai Stevenson — a big hole in the sole of his right shoe. Sally had ordered a new pair of shoes, but they didn't arrive on time.

A Democratic colleague. Rep. Charles Boyle of Illinois, also looked prim and proper — until told his white tie was inside out.

"You can see the 'size 17' plain as day on it," chided Congressmen Hale Boggs of Louisiana and Charles Vanik of Ohio.

Boyle was only a few feet from Eisenhower in the reception line, but he whipped off the tie and retied it before he shook hands with the President.

"How did you do that so fast?" marveled Boggs. "You must have worked in a haberdashery."

"No, I used to drive a bus while working my way through law school in Chicago," explained Boyle. "I had to wear a uniform with a bow tie. We drivers used to loosen our ties on hot days, but we had to know how to retie fast when a bus inspector showed up."

The macadam road was named for John McAdam, a Scot, who found that limestone makes a good road.

The Role of Senator Johnson

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

In the wake of the administration's bumpy and often acrimonious 58-day struggle to get the Middle East resolution through Congress, several consequences are emerging.

Mr. Drummond

There is, first of all, an increased appreciation in the White House for the effectiveness and intellectual competence of Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson.

The fact is that Sen. Johnson demonstrated a responsiveness and an independence which can create a new relationship between Congress and the President in foreign policy.

This new relationship has two aspects. One of them is personal. There is now a far higher degree of mutual respect and a better mood of cooperation between Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Johnson than has prevailed up to this time. This comes from the able job the Texas Senator did in re-casting, in a way which pleased Congress, and in sheperding, in a way which pleased the President, the "Eisenhower Doctrine" through the shoals of a touchy Senate.

Congress Helped

But the role which Sen. Johnson played which was infinitely helpful to the President, was played primarily in behalf of Congress so that in the end the Senate was in part the architect of the Middle East resolution, not merely its rubber stamp. Thus what began as a State Department leak emerged reshaped and improved, as a presidential-congressional resolution in which Congress was a creative participant.

This makes for a healthier relationship between the President and Congress. If it continues, it will be a boon to both.

Much of the credit for this development — obviously not all — goes to Sen. Johnson. My information is that President Eisenhower personally telephoned, within a few minutes after the Senate had voted for the resolution 72 to 19, to express his appreciation to Mr. Johnson for his decisive part in the result — as did Secretary Dulles.

A second consequence of the events which surrounded the long hassle over the resolution is the expansion of the boundaries of genuine consultation between Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Dulles, on the one hand, and the legislative leaders of both parties on the other.

Those who are close to the facts are convinced that the President and Secretary Dulles are putting behind them the habit of windy "briefings" of the congressional leaders and are now persuaded that there can, there should be complete give-and-take if productive bi-partisanship is to prevail.

Danger of Stalemate

Nothing could be more useful because the alternative to bi-partisanship in foreign policy matters where responsibility is shared by both the President and Congress is not partisanship. The alternative is a dangerous stalemate with such a narrowly divided House and Senate. Neither side can afford to want stalemate — and the country least of all.

There is no doubt that the first presentation of the Eisenhower Doctrine of a military shield and economic aid to the Middle East nations against Communist maneuvers got off on the wrong foot because it officially was leaked to the press in advance of the already summoned meeting between the White House and the legislative leaders. They also felt that much of Secretary Dulles' testimony was unresponsive and given on a take-it-or-leave-it basis which annoyed many Republicans and understandably infuriated the Democrats.

Congress isn't going to be patronized and shouldn't be.

Johnson Dependable

And, now, Sen. Johnson has shown that the leadership will work responsibly with the President when the White House treats Congress as a full-bodied participant in the creation of those parts of foreign policy which must be mutually arrived at.

The premise of Sen. Johnson's attitude is a combination of responsiveness and independence. This is something solid on which the President can build because I am convinced that Mr. Johnson's responsiveness can be faithfully counted upon.

This doesn't mean that the President will not have his troubles with Congress. It will take all his skill and prestige to get through his foreign aid program. There will be major Republican and Democratic defections. But it does suggest that his difficulties will be more manageable.

The Lighter Side—

Neglected Feet

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)—The man who has headed up the American Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Feet for the last seven years confessed today that other people's feet are still killing him.

"I been looking at feet for 40 years and putting shoes on 'em, and I've seen some terrible things," said George Fitzgerald. "Women with bunions. People with toes on top of each other.

"We have societies on eyesight preservation and for prevention of cruelty to children and to animals, so why not talk about feet? People are suffering. They're walking around on three cylinders instead of six. They got pains all over the body, and lots of times the cause is feet—the foundation.

"Ninety per cent of foot trouble is shoe trouble. If they ever fitted glasses the way they fit shoes, half the people would be blind. You have to have a license to put shoes on a horse in New York state, but anybody can sell shoes to a human being.

"What does a woman do the first thing she gets in the house, even before she takes her hat off? She says, 'My feet are killing me.' and she takes off her shoes, gets the old dogs out of their torture chambers."

Fitzgerald and his partner in the Brooklynn shoe firm of Palter and Fitzgerald started the ASPCF to try to educate the public in the care and good grooming of feet. They had lectures by experts every Wednesday night in their shop. However, the lectures have been dropped during the last three years.

Their idea is that sore feet make soreheads, and that a lot of the world's troubles would vanish if people took that load of hurt off their feet. As Fitzgerald says:

"Short shoes, narrow shoes, tight shoes, wrong size, wrong shape—women go into a beauty parlor and get the wrinkles rubbed out and then put on tight shoes and get them right back again."

Their store claims to have the largest range of ready-made shoe sizes in the world, more than 240 sizes and widths. If the shoe doesn't fit, they make special ones, moulding them over a cast of your foot. They make sizes four to 21 in men's shoes and one to 13 in women's.

Plenty of Problem Feet

Since in addition to regular sales they've been doing corrective work for the last 25 years, a lot of problem feet come to them, and they ship shoes to contended feet all over the world. Their customers include people whose feet don't match, but these are few.

The biggest women's shoes they ever made were size 14½. When Primo Carnera, the giant Italian boxer, came to this country, they fitted him with size 18. But Primo was a midget-foot compared with a Brooklyn boy they've got now. They have just made this youngman a pair of size 28's.

"This guy is seven feet. some inches tall—and these are the biggest shoes I ever heard of," Fitzgerald said. "I've had shoe men say they never saw anything like it. Measured on the outside, they're 20 inches long, heel to toe, and 6½ inches wide." Man, that's well shod.

New GOP Chairman Faces Many Hurdles

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UP) — Meade Alcorn, new chairman of the Republican National Committee, keeps telling his party it can win back control of Congress in the 1958 elections.

Mr. Lahr

To some of his listeners, the job seems very tough, if not impossible.

Alcorn thinks victory can be won by doing three things: Strengthening the party organization, nominating vote - attracting candidates and presenting a good program.

As for the program, he says President Eisenhower's is all that is needed.

Executive Committee Meets

GOP managers at the national level have been talking about how to regain control of Congress ever since they failed to do so last year while Mr. Eisenhower was winning reelection by a landslide.

This how-to-do-it question was the chief topic on the agenda for today's session of the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee.

From the GOP viewpoint, winning House and Senate majorities in the 1958 elections looks like a strenuous assignment. Normally, the party in opposition to an administration gains congressional seats in the middle of a presidential term. That would mean Democratic gains in 1958.

Each of the 11 Democratic senators whose seat is at stake next year was elected in 1952, the year of the first Eisenhower landslide. A number of the 21 GOP seats up for grabs next year seem in much greater jeopardy. Hence Senate Democrats already are talking of converting their present 49 to 47 margin into a more comfortable majority next year.

Needs 18 Seats

In the House, the present lineup is 233 Democrats, 200 Republicans and two vacancies. The GOP needs to gain 18 seats to recapture control.

Alcorn appears to have convinced some key GOP legislators that he is eager to cooperate and will not make any effort to purge members who do not fit President Eisenhower's definition of "Modern Republicans."

A national party organization is theoretically neutral when its branches in states and local districts are nominating candidates for Congress.

With Mr. Eisenhower talking of building a "Modern Republican" Party, there has been some uneasiness in the GOP as to whether there will be any purge effort like the one attempted by the late President Roosevelt in 1938. That one backfired.

GOP Senators seeking reelection next year will include Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy (Wis), William E. Jenner (Ind) and George W. Malone (Nev), who do not claim the "Modern Republicanism" label.

On the basis of his attitude so far, Alcorn is not expected to try to read such men out of the party.

Don't Try to Savvy 6-Year-Olds' Chatter

By MARGARET LATROBE

"Daddy, how does God turn on the stars at night? What makes the wind whistle? Where does my voice go when it quits talking?. ."

Friends, these are the simlper challenges of child-rearing. Farsighted parents set up lodgings close to the public library in order to keep a length ahead in the unending unpaying quiz kid questionnaire. And finding no living quarters near the source material, others build bookshelves for large sets of encyclopedia.

Mrs. Latrobe

The mockery of it is this — kiddies constantly outwit these great books by asking the unanswerable. Parents may emerge as numbskulls in young eyes while becoming expert diversionists. "Well now, let's look up the answer together . . ." is only a subterfuge by which it is hoped that a pretty butterfly in full color might distract Junior from that "where does the smoke go" routine.

The direct question is bad enough for parental morale. Worse yet is listening in on the six-year-old wave length. They make no sense at this age, yet understand each other perfectly.

"My daddy is taking us to the circus next Tuesday . . ." says one. "That's good," says the other, "and I don't even know what 'exciting means.'

"But . . ." replies the first, "you eat blueberry muffins, so . . ." "Hah!" counters the second. ". . . they look funny in the microscope!"

Panic-stricken elders do well to hide behind the newspaper, pretending to read favored columnists — anything rather than give in to a normal impulse for flight. Are these kids having a wry joke, deliberately trying to drive the old man daft? Or what?

Blueberries — microscopes — circuses? The urge toward introspection becomes great, just here. But I urge you not to give in to that, either. Catching the sense of such childish talk is outside your adult power, and to get a clue you'll need six-year-old advice. I wouldn't recommend this course at all, simply because the young should be shielded from premature discovery of parental incompetence. You have resorted to "Let's look it up together" often to undermine their belief in your store of wisdom; don't compound the error by attempting to follow their private discourses.

"If we take our umbrellas when it isn't raining," says one, joyfully, "how about the quartz?"

"Well, says the other, "I have a pocketful, so why don't we wait for the mailman? Go ask your mother if she really means it . . ."

There is only one answer to that. "Of course, dear." And get back to that newspaper. The kids will grow up soon enough, soon enough.

Beverly Junk Weds Raymond E. Ronk

In the First Presbyterian Church of Monessen a double ring nuptial ceremony was solemnized uniting in marriage Beverly Ann Junk and Raymond E. Ronk. The bride is the daughter of Harry C. Junk, Sr., of 316 Chestnut street, and the late Mrs. Junk. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Ronk, of Belle Vernon R. D. 3.

Mrs. Raymond E. Ronk

The wedding was an event of Saturday evening, March 2, at 7:30 o'clock with the Rev. Abner P. Richard, Jr. officiating.

Organ music was played by Harry McCann before the ceremony and the soloist was Mrs. Robert Whitfield, who sang, "Because", "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Tall lighted tapers furnished the only illumination in the church and white chrysanthemums, gladiolus and ferns were used in the decorations. White crash lined the aisle. Candlelighters were Harry William Junk and Ronald David Junk, nephews of the bride.

Given by Father

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over ice blue slipper satin. It was styled chapel length with a fitted lace bodice, long pointed sleeves with a tulle ruffle edge, mandarin collar accented with crystal sequins and a full skirt with lace paneling. Her veil was of imported silk illustion and was fingertip length with a half hat of pearls, crystal sequins and rhinestones. Her flowers were two white orchids and stephanotis in a cascade arrangement.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Paul Nagy, of Pittsburgh, who wore a gown of poudre blue lace styled ballerina length with peau de soie accents. It was styled with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and full skirt. She wore a matching tiara and carried a cascade of white carnations entwined with blue ribbon.

Best man was Walter K. Ronk, brother of the bridegroom.

Ushers were George Shrader, George Holan, Harry C. Junk, Jr., brother of the bride and Marlin Showman.

Mrs. Ronk, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue print suit dress with navy accessories and an orchid corsage Betty Junk, sister of the bride, wore an ice blue lace dress with navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception at the home of the bride's father followed the ceremony and bouquets of jonquils and pompons decorated the home. A wedding cake and lighted candles appointed the buffet table.

The couple later left for a trip to Cleveland. The bride's traveling ensemble was a navy blue shantung dress with matching jacket and accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage. They are now residing at the Junk home.

The bride was graduated in 1950 from Monessen High School and is employed by the Bell Telephone Co. in Charleroi. Her husband was graduated from Duquesne University in 1948 and is employed at Murphy Ford Sales.

Guests attended from Cleveland, O., Philadelphia, Hyattsville, Md., Lorrain, O. and area towns.

On Friday evening after rehearsal the wedding party was entertained at a buffet supper at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Democrat Club Welcomes 16 New Members

The Monessen Women's Democrat Club roster was enlarged by 16 new members, who were welcomed into the organization at a meeting held at the Slovak Home last night.

Vice President Marion Monios was in charge in the absence of the president, Mrs. Helen Frediana. Reports were given by Ann Belan, secretary, Lisa Canova, financial secretary and Helen Toth, treasurer.

Handkerchiefs were presented to six members, who observed birthdays this month.

Hostesses for the evening were the officers, Marion Monios, Ann Belan, Lisa Canova, Helen Toth, Helen Kuvinka, Ann Bobola, Lois Povich and Mary Sassak.

Winning the guest award was Lola Guzanick. Luncheon was served and cards played and winning high score awards were Frances Otkolovski, Sue Savarino, Martha Garafola, Ann Popella, Sophie Luoma and Wilma Dolinsky.

B.P.W. Members Heart Drive Is Successful

The campaign for funds to aid the Heart Drive has ended successfully according to announcement made by the Business and Professional Women's Club, the organization in charge of the local drive. Mrs. Olga Kernisky was general chairman and reported that $714 85 was collected.

The heart collection boxes were picked up from the various business establishments by Jean Miller, Jacqueline Minardi, Gloria Mahalko, Geraldine Meluck, Evelyn Arabia, Mrs. Kernisky and Helen Clickovich.

The club members conducted a tag day, which brought in $187 35, house to house canvass netting $331.40 and $190 20 from the heart containers. Two local children contributed $5 90 they collected.

St. Patrick's Party Planned At Elks Club

The entertainment committee of B P.O. Elks Lodge 773 met on Friday to complete plans for a St. Patrick's Party to be held on Saturday evening at the Home on Seventh street.

The Elks will have their wives and girl friends as guests and a full evening of entertainment is being planned. It will be highlighted by the serving of a buffet luncheon free in the Cracker Barrel room.

LOCALS

The Reformed Free Methodist Church of Perryopolis R. D. 2 is holding an old fashioned revival in its new church foundation on the Fayette City road. Services are held nightly at 7:30 through the remainder of the month.

The United Workers Class of the First Christian Church will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Cathers of Tyrol Pass. There will be a bake sale during the social hour.

This evening after the St. Anthony novena at St. Cajetan R. C Church there will be a meeting of the Rosary Altar Society in the church hall.

The meeting of the B'nai B'rith Women of Monessen originally scheduled for Wednesday evening of this week will be postponed until next Wednesday. It will be held at the Kneseth Israel Center and a philanthropic movie will be shown.

Mrs. Russell Sagona Feted At Post-Nuptial Shower

A miniature bridal doll complete with sheer veil trimmed with pink roses and a full tiered ruffled skirt with streamers of silver and white knotted with the same flower motif formed an umbrella for the table centerpiece at a post nuptial shower honoring Mrs. Russell Sagona, the former Florence Emerick. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Emerick, of Fairhope.

Mrs. Russell Sagona

The centerpiece was made by Julia Lawrence, of Fairhope, for the gift table and was flanked with white wedding bells.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Emerick, mother of the bride, Mrs. Consetta Sagona, of Monessen, mother of the bridegroom, who were assisted in serving by Mrs. Betty Kash and Mrs. Frances Kash, of Monongahela, Mrs. Josephine Nevela, of Monessen, aunts of the bridegroom, Mrs. Ann Katsuleris, Mrs. Diane Trizziani, Mrs. Julia Amendola, Connie Sagona, sister of the bridegroom and Marie Nevela, also of Monessen; Mrs. Mary Sciore and Mrs. Theresa Zeli, of Belle Vernon and Charlotte Farquhar, of Grindstone.

200 Attend

There were about 200 relatives and friends present at the party held at the Fairhope Rod and Gun Club. The time was spent in playing games and taking pictures. Joe Amendola, of Belle Vernon, entertained with accordion selections.

Winners of the guest prizes were Florence Conway and Ann Lautsch, of Fairhope, Mrs. Anthony Ghilani and Mrs. Anthony Treater, of Monessen.

The same pink and white color scheme was used in the luncheon appointments and small bridal bouquets made of pastel candles and net were given as favors.

The new bride was assisted in opening her many gifts by the Misses Nevela, Sagona and Farquhar and Mrs. Katsuleris.

Wedding Here

The newlyweds, who became engaged on the bride's 20th birthday, on Feb. 2, and were married on Thursday evening, Feb. 21, in St. Cajetan R. C. Church. The Rev. Nunzio Pirulli, church pastor, read the lines of the ceremony at 7 o'clock. Members of both families and friends were present.

The bride wore for her wedding a light blue linen suit with white accessories and a matching corsage.

Connie Sagona, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride. She wore a pink and white sheath dress with beige accessories and a white carnation corsage. Anthony DiGioia was best man.

A dinner at the Sagona home followed the ceremony and later the couple left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C.

The bride was graduated from Bellmar High School and is employed at the Irvin Works. Her husband attended Monessen Schools and is employed at the Allenport Plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Co. The couple is now residing at the home of the bridegroom's mother.

Belle-Monette Pinochle Club Is Entertained

The Belle-Monette Pinochle Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. George Driesen, of Belle Vernon, and two tables of cards were in play.

High score winners were Mrs Wendell Carlson, Mrs. Raymond Swearer, Mrs. Ivin Bost and Mrs. V. William Dobas.

Tentative plans were made for a Pittsburgh trip in the near future.

Luncheon was served and the group made plans to meet at the Carlson home in Belle Vernon on March 27.

Catholic BPW Holds Day of Recollection

The first Day of Recollection to be sponsored by Our Lady of Fatima Chapter of the Catholic Business and Professional Women's Club was held on Sunday afternoon at St. Leonard R. C. Church.

Members and their guests convened and were given an Our Lady of Fatima prayer card and a booklet, which outlined the program set for the afternoon. It included prayer, meditation, conferences and discussion. The Rev. William Gavron, assistant at the Greensburg cathedral, conducted the conferences and discussion. He was assisted by the Rev. J. L. Conway, assistant pastor at St. Leonard Church.

A social hour followed and luncheon was served by the Ladies Guild of St. Leonard in the parish hall. A "bit of Ireland" was the theme for the social hour. A centerpiece and shamrock place markers carried out the color scheme.

The officers making arrangements for this affair were Mrs. H. C. Behrendt, president; Ann Grbin, Mary McCleary and Christine Kerekes.

Volcano Belches In Aleutians

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP)—A Coast Guard cutter sped toward a remote island in the Aleutian chain today prepared to evacuate natives if an 8,000-foot volcano should "blow its top."

About 25 natives fled the tiny village of Nikoloski in Umnak Island Monday when Mount Vsevdo, a long-slumbering volcano, began belching huge puffs of white steam.

They bedded down for the night in a barn on a sheep ranch owned by Art Harris, only white man in the vicinity.

Mount Vsevdo began smoking during a series of minor earthquakes which shook the islands on the western tip of the Aleutian chain Monday morning.

The earthquakes occurred about every half-hour during the day, but were reported as "not too severe."

Saturday, major earthquakes in the chain set off a series of tidal waves which rolled over the northern shores of the Hawaiian Islands for five hours.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

World Day of Prayer Is Held by Church Societies

World Day of Prayer, sponsored by the Missionary societies of the churches of West Newton, was held Friday evening at the First Methodist Church.

The theme for the service, "Who Shall Separate Us," and the leaders who participated in the presentation of the program included Flora Spiegel and Grace Sutto of the Baptist Church; Daryl Whit of the Presbyterian Church; Mrs Ruth Moore of the Zion Baptis Church; Eliza McAlpine and Mrs Mary Budd, United Presbyteria Church; Margaret Bierwirth Christ Lutheran Church; Mrs. Id Moore, Mrs. Marie Melton, Mrs Avanell Phillipp, Mrs. Faye Mc Coy, Mrs. Margaret Holding an Mrs. Violet Lash, Church of God Mrs. Washburn of Pilgrim Holi ness Church; Lillias Peebles of th First Methodist Church and Mrs Bruce Perry of the A. M. E. Church.

The offeratory was presented by Miss Peebles who spoke of the objects in which the women take art. She spoke of aid given to hospitals, Christian colleges, Christian education projects and rehabilitation work in the United States and abroad and mentioned the work among the migrants of the United States as well as other activities which the women support through activities.

The text for the day's meditations was based on Romans 8:31 to 39. The pastor of the host church, the Rev. Lawrence E. Garner, pronounced the benediction.

Christ Lutheran Church Class in Meeting Here

Nineteen members and two guests attended the March meeting of the Good Samaritan Sunday School Class of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church Friday evening.

Mrs. Marvis Lenk was in charge of the devotional period, using as her theme, "Prayer." She used the scriptures, as well as several poems and a religious article in her program.

The business meeting was conducted by the class president, Mrs. Thelma Medsger, who gave the class a report on the "bakeless bake sale" held recently. The group voted to purchase five service books which will be placed in the church for general use. One of the books will be in memoriam.

A Lenten offering will be made from the class.

The Easter egg sale is in full swing, with several hundred eggs already completed. Members are asked to try to get orders in before too long, because of extra supplies to be ordered.

Games were provided by Mrs Ann Soyka, Mrs. Charlotte Cope, Mrs. Hazel Kohley and Mrs. Medsger.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be held on Friday, April 12.

Week of Prayer Services at Local Church

Special Week of Prayer services are being held at Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church this evening, Thursday, and Friday. The services are held in the parish house at 7:30 p. m.

The topic last evening, "But What Are You? A Sinner?" was presented by Mrs. Thelma Momeyer and Mrs. Vera Gephart. This evening Mrs. Mary Vaughan and Mrs. Mary Uchrinscko will use, "But What Are You? A Saint?"

"But What Are You? A Growing Christian?" will be the subject under discussion on Thursday with Mrs. Anna Mary Long and Mrs. Bess Bones as leaders.

The final program on Friday will have two programs. The first, "But What are You? A Mature Personality?" will be given by Mrs. Kathryn Johnson and Mrs. Sophia Rieser; the second, "Become What You Are — A Christian," will be offered by Mrs. Dorothy Specht and Mrs. Barbara Schneidmiller.

Women's Society Meets Tomorrow

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in the social rooms of the church.

Mrs. Lloyd Hunter will lead the devotions by Mrs. T. J. Painter presenting the topic, "United Nations and Us."

Hostesses are Mrs. C. P. Markle and Mrs. Gertrude Kintigh.

Meeting Thursday

The Brotherhood of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday evening for the regular monthly meeting.

Meeting on Friday

The Friday Reading Club meeting will be held in the First Methodist Church on Friday. The meeting was postponed last week because of World Day of Prayer services.

Felton Brown Second in AAU Meet

Felton Brown, Jr., a basketball-track standout at Monessen High last season, placed second in the 50 yard dash at the AAU track meet over the weekend in South Park. Except for a slow start, Brown might have come out on top . . . Incidentally young Felton is now a freshman at Westminster College. He has a great future ahead of him in the dash events . . . Dave Simon, the Washington-Jefferson baseball coach, was a former all-around athlete at Brownsville High . . . Clairton High has received a "feeler" from the Cambria County War Memorial Basketball Tournament committee in Johnstown. Defending champion Charleroi also expects a bid to return.

* * *

John Conte, Monongahela High principal and a member of the WPIAL Baseball Committee, will spend at least the next two weeks at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh. He was stricken with an apparent ulcer attack while attending the WPIAL banquet last Saturday . . . Penn State's gymnasts have been unbeaten seven times, and Eastern team champions eight times, in 18 seasons under Gene Wettstone . . . Pledges to the Richard Kadis Fund are rapidly reaching the $40,000 mark. In Uniontown, Jack Mier (the former Monessen High athlete) plans a bowling marathon at his Laurel Lane alleys to swell the Kadis Fund.

* * *

Tag Day Saturday for Kadis Fund

Speaking of the Kadis Fund, a tag day will be staged Saturday in Monessen. The Greek Ladies Aid Society will be in charge . . . Jimmy Smith, 6-6, 220 pound junior at Steubenville College, is regarded by the pros as a good future prospect. We'll always remember Smith as the gangling teen-ager from Homestead who took part in an Ozark Tournament some years back at the Junior High gym. His coach then was Chick Davies, the learned basketball pilot who made a power out of Duquesne University. Chick's method for conveying information to Smith and his teammates during timeouts was simple. He merely knocked heads. Apparently the tough tactics worked since Smith developed into a superb player.

* * *

Ray Ronco, the Scottdale principal, has hardly endeared himself to the recently-organized Tri-County Football Conference. Ronco was one of the organizers of that league. His school was listed in the constitution as a charter member. Now Ray has taken the lead in organizing a Westmoreland County Conference. He also has Scottdale in that circuit. Presumably the Scotties will drop out of the Tri-County set-up before playing a single season . . . By the way, Bellmar principal Raymond Barker reports that the Hurricanes will stay put in the Tri-County League. "We've been playing mostly Fayette County schools in recent years, so we naturally fit into that group," points out Barker.

Archery Club Makes Novel Offer

If you're looking for a novel and interesting act for a banquet or club meeting, how about this offer from the Charleroi Archery Club? The bow-and-arrow enthusiasts will stage an exhibition, free of charge. They ask merely for the privilege of publicizing their sport. In Monessen, Bill Greer is representing the Archery Club and he may be reached at MU 4-9169 . . . Latrobe High is after its third straight Westmoreland County Class A basketball tournament in the current show. Only two other schools have ever won three in a row; Monessen and Greensburg . . . Don LeJohn, a good-looking Daisytown prospect, left last week for spring training with the Brooklyn farm club at Fort Worth in the Class AA Texas League. Last season, LeJohn hit .336 for Wichita Falls, Texas, in the Class B Big State League.

Saddler Hopes to Fight Despite Eyes

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Sandy Saddler ignored the sightless spectre of Sam Langford today and declared firmly from a hospital bed that one of these days I'll regain the featherweight championship of the world."

One year ago, the 30-year-old Saddler was the unquestioned ruler of the featherweight division. Then, on his way to the gym, he was involved in a taxicab accident. He claims injuries he suffered were the cause of double vision and doctors told him that he would go blind if he fought any more.

But now, after an operation, Saddler ignores the dark glasses which hide his eyes and enthuses, "They tell me I've got a helluva chance to fight again."

Explains His Injury

"Sure, I know all about the guys who went blind from taking too much of a beating around the eyes," he says as he frets through his recuperative period. "But this is different. This was from a blow on the side of the head, not from beatings around the eyes."

Saddler claims the shock of the collision turned his right eye outward.

"I thought my head had been busted wide open," he recalls. "But I wasn't even cut. Then I had terrific headaches and I told the doctor that I was seeing double. He said that the eyes would clear up when the headaches did. But the headaches went away and the bad vision stayed with me."

Finally a neuro-surgeon, who had feared that the icicle of the prize ring was too unstable to accept the bad news, told Saddler that he might go blind if he ever fought any more.

"I cried like a baby," Sandy admits. "Fighting is all I've known since I was 17 years old. The whole bottom dropped out of my world."

Uneasy During Recuperation

So Sandy retired Jan. 22 after he had been stripped of his long-held featherweight title for not making a defense. In 160 bouts, he won 142 against 16 losses and two draws. Two weeks ago he underwent an operation and now he is counting the minutes and the hours of his recuperative period.

"I've never been in one place so long," he said of his hospital room. "When I get out of here I'm going to recuperate in the Merchant Marine, just so I can be on the move."

"Then," he said, "I'm going to come back and get back my featherweight championship. I don't know who will have it, but it's still mine and I'm gonna get it."

From the way he spoke, you could go broke betting against him, too.

Charleroi Nips Washington, 39 to 38

Defense-Minded Cougars Protect Slim Advantage

Charleroi High's defense-minded Cougars battled grimly to a 39-38 victory over Washington last night before 3,430 fans at the Pitt Field House.

The eyelash decision advanced the towering Cougars to a semi-final clash on Saturday in the current WPIAL Basketball Tournament against the Sharon-Scott survivor.

Coach Henry Pennline's poised students got by a dangerous Washington team last night by throwing up a brilliant zone defense.

The defensive maneuver kept the Prexies gunning from far outside. Except for a hot-streak by the losers' James (Beanie) Gordon, the Charleroians might have won going away.

At intermission, the Cougars led 24-16. They threatened to turn the game into a romp in the second period, outscoring their foes, 16-6.

Fine Defense

Moreover the Charleroi defense was absolutely brilliant during that frame. Washington missed ten straight field goal attempts before Gordon connected with a driving layup in the closing seconds of the half.

In the third period, though, the irrepressible Gordon went wild, hitting on four straight field goal attempts, three of them truly fantastic shots. That spree brought the Prexies even at 28-28.

However the Cougars refused to rattle and they pulled steadily back to a five point spread.

Charleroi held the advantage most of the way. It wasn't until the final minute that Washington cut into the spread, thanks to a pair of fielders by the incomparable Gordon.

Beanie Steals Show

Quite naturally, Beanie stole the show for the losers, scoring 20 points.

Pottios, 6-2 hustler. He scored 12 points and was magnificent on defense.

Ollie Payne also hit double figures for the victors, making 10 points.

In all fairness to the Prexies, they suffered a rude jolt when 6-1 Don Ferrell drew four quick personal fouls in the opening period.

Ferrell, regarded as the Prexies only serious scoring threat outside of Gordon, spent most of the game on the bench.

For the most part, Washington was unable to crack the Charleroi zone defense, and except for Gordon's spurts, the Cougars were in control despite the close score.

Statistically, Charleroi made 14 of 48 field goal attempts for 29 percent accuracy. Washington hit on 13 of 38 for 34 percent shooting. In the seconddhalf, the Prexies made no less than half their field goal attempts.

Charleroi's next foe will probably be tourney-favorite Sharon. The Bengals meet Scott tomorrow in a semi-final contest at the Field House. They are heavily favored to survive that test without trouble.

Tonight, McKeesport, Section 6 champion, will debut against Uniontown, Section 2 representative. McKeesport, like Sharon, will carry an undefeated record into the tournament.

MHS Spikers Begin Tonight Show in Tourney at Bentleyville

Coach John (Corky) DeMillion will unveil his 1957 Monessen High volleyball edition tonight at Bentleyville.

The Greyhounds will join Waynesburg, Ellsworth, Charleroi and host Bentleyville in a tournament, starting at 7 p. m.

The event will serve as a tune-up for the annual WPIAL show at North Braddock Scott on March 22.

Only one boy — Carl Crawley — is back from last year's fine Monessen team which won the state championship.

Despite heavy graduation losses, DeMillion is confident that Monessen will make a creditable showing in tonight's tourney and the WPIAL event as well.

Traveling Squad

Comprising the traveling squad will be Crawley, Tom Churan, Alvin Bost, Jim Baker, George Seleylo, Marvin Scales, C. L. Melenyzer. Terry Troop, Bill Machinen and Bill Donnell.

DeMillion concedes that his team is somewhat of a question mark.

"We won't know how good the team is until we see the boys in actual tourney competition," said DeMillion. "However we should be able to take care of ourselves."

Significantly, Crawley is the only senior member of the current volleyball cast.

Rostraver Will Play Nine Grid Games in '57

Rostraver High School athletic director James Weir today announced a nine game football schedule for 1957.

The schedule will include three newcomers: Ellsworth, Carmichaels and Penn Twp. They will replace Mars, Monessen and Elizabeth.

An oddity in the schedule will have the Leps playing five successive home games at one stage in the campaign.

Six of the nine foes are Class A schools. The only exceptions are Ellsworth, West Newton and Carmichaels, all Class B entries.

Here is the complete schedule:

Sept 13 — at Ellsworth; 20 — West Newton; 26 — California.

Oct. 4 — Glassport; 10 — North Huntingdon; 17 — Bellmar; 25 — at Scottdale.

Nov. 1 — at Carmichaels; 9 — at Penn Twp.

Yovicsin New Harvard Coach

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP) — Harvard University officials, perhaps a bit self-conscious about the school's slipping Ivy League fortunes, admitted today they picked young John Yovicsin as head football coach because "he has done a great deal with little."

Harvard Athletic Director Thomas D. Bolles disclosed 95 men applied for the job but a letter of recommendation from former Crimson Coach Dick Harlow swung the favor of the selection committee to tap the Gettysburg (Pa) College football coach.

Furios Romp in Mill League

Furios blanked the Brennimans and Geiselharts won a pair from the McVickers in Blooming Mill Millwrights League bowling last night.

Scoring leaders were Robert McKeever, 235-614, (a new three game record); Pete Urick, 236-531; Ray Echart, 197-498; Leonard Pushkar, 189-480; Frank Rubachko, 174-480.

Standings show McVickers, 19-11; Furios, 17-13; Geiselharts, 14-16; and Brennimans, 10-20.

Cage Officials Elect Officers

Walter (Mickey) Finn, has been elected president of Chapter Seven, District Seven, PIAA basketball officials, succeeding G. Wayne Blaney.

Other officers are Ray Renninger, vice-president; Disey Simon, secretary-treasurer; George Zoretic, booking agent; and Gent Holub, rules interpreter.

Named to the board of control were Finn, Renninger, Simon, John Saber and Grover McLaughlin.

NCAA Floor Show Underway Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

Unbeaten North Carolina, the nation's No. 1 team riding a 27-game winning streak, is favored to beat Yale tonight when the NCAA basketball tournaments whirls into action with a total of six games in three different cities.

Idaho State officially opened the court carnival Monday night by beating Hardin - Simmons, 68-57, in a first-rounder at Pocatello, Idaho.

Tar Heels Favored

Here is tonight's lineup:

At New York City: North Carolina (27-0) a 13-point choice over Yale (18-7): Syracuse (16-6) favored by five over Connecticut (17-7); and West Virginia (25-4) even money against Canisius (20-5).

At Columbus, Ohio: Notre Dame (18-7) by 10 over Miami of Ohio, and Pittsburgh (15-9) even money against Morehead (19-7).

At Oklahoma City: Oklahoma City (17-8) favored by 15 over Loyola of the South (15-10).

Nine of the tournaments 23 teams, including such high-rankid powers as Kentucky and Southern Methodist, drew first-round byes and await the winners of the first-round games in four regional tournaments this weekend at Philadelphia, Lexington, Ky., Dallas, Tex., and Corvallis, Ore.

The tourney's opening game Monday night saw Idaho State pull away from Hardin - Simmons in the second half after being held to a 32-30 halftime margin.

Will Face 'Frisco

Gerry Hicks led the winning Begals in scoring with 24 points but Carl Siemen, who had 20 despite an injured leg, shared the limelight. Idaho State qualified to meet defending champion San Francisco at Corvallis on Friday.

North Carolina, just named today as the nation's No. 1 team at the end of the regular season by the United Press Board of Coaches must add five more wins to its glittering record in order to capture the NCAA crown. If the Tar Heels can do it, they will also break the all-time collegiate record of 29 straight victories in a single season set by last year's NCAA champion, San Francisco.

The Tar Heels, led by All-American Lennie Rosenbluth and guided by "Coach of the Year" Frank McGuire, send a New York - bred team familiar with the Madison Square Garden court against Yale's Ivy League champions, whose high scorer, Johnny Lee, has been ill with a virus. McGuire fears a "letdown" after Carolina's victory in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament last weekend, and also the mounting "pressure" of the winning streak.

DiBiase Easily Defeats Giovanelli

NEW YORK (UP)—Stocky Tony DiBiase, the young collegiate welterweight who postponed two examinations in order to get sharp and upset Danny Giovanelli on TV Monday night, will fight again at St. Nicholas Arena, April 22, if his wounds heal by then.

DiBiase of Astoria, N. Y., weighed 148 pounds to Giovanelli's 150 as he easily outpointed the more experienced Danny and stretched his unbeaten string to 18 bouts, including one draw.

His speedy left hooks and rapid-fire combinations enabled New York University's geology junior to beat the lanky Brooklynite on a rounds basis, 6-3-1, 6-3-1, 8-2.

Brown Takes on Savoie Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, safely over one defense of his title, goes against Armand Savoie tonight with a jackpot of offers awaiting him.

Tonight's 10-round go against the former Canadian lightweight champion is a non-title affair. A capacity crowd of more than 4,000 fans was expected to see the fight in City Auditorium.

Burgess Wants To Stay With Cincy Redlegs

TAMPA, Fla. (UP) — Stocky Smoky Burgess, flattered because other clubs are seeking him, hoped today he will be catching for the Cincinnati Redlegs for years to come because "we have the best manager in baseball in Birdie Tebbetts."

"I'd rather be a second - string catcher on the Redlegs than the first-stringer on another club," Burgess declared. He said he knew the Giants, among other teams, had made a bid for him.

"But I understand that as soon as the other clubs mention the players they will give up for me, they get no further," he added. "It's nice to know those other teams think well enough of me to keep after me. I'm not starting to pack my bags because I want to stay with the Redlegs as long as Birdie is the manager."

A Vital Cog

Admitting that his chances of working regularly, as he prefers, are not bright because he ranks behind Ed Bailey, Burgess pointed out that "in catching you get more injuries than any other position on a team, so in my book the No. 2 catcher is a vital cog."

Appearing in 90 games, many of them only as a pinch hitter because Bailey was going so well both at bat and behind the plate, Burgess slumped to a .275 average in 1956. He hit .301 the season before when he caught regularly after being traded to Cincinnati by the Phillies.

Getting back to Tebbetts, Burgess declared he was fortunate in that "I've always played for good managers, but none as good as Birdie."

Says Pitching "Deep"

"You know exactly where you stand with him," he added, "and there isn't a player on the club who doesn't back him 100 per cent. I've never seen a manager who can handle so many different types of players as well as Birdie and I've never seen one either who can handle pitchers the way he does."

On the subject of pitching, Burgess let out a blast "because every time I read something about our team, they say our pitching is a question mark."

"Let me tell you it isn't," he said. "We may not have outstanding stars on our pitching staff such as Phillies have in Robin Roberts, the Dodgers in Don Newcombe and the Giants in Johnny Antonelli, but for depth, I'll back our staff against any in the league."

Baseball Will Begin Tomorrow At Monessen

The 1957 baseball season will begin tomorrow at Monessen High.

Coach John Hayduk has issued a call for all diamond hopefuls to meet tomorrow to discuss training procedure.

On Thursday and Friday, the pitchers and catchers will work out in the gym.

Next Monday, the entire squad will move outdoors at Ninth Street Park, weather permitting.

One exhibition game has already been scheduled. The Greyhounds will play host to McKeesport on March 28.

First Season

This will be Hayduk's first season at the Monessen helm. The former Charleroi High athlete assumed control of the Greyhound nine last month, succeeding the resigned John Harhai.

Hayduk faces a difficult job in his first season. He has only one returning regular, Carl Crawley.

Moreover all other valley teams, with the possible exception of Bellmar, seem to be coming up with "super" teams.

Iowa Coach to Speak at District Football Clinic

Forest Evasheski, successful Iowa University football coach, will be the main speaker at the annual Western Pennsylvania Coaches Assn. spring clinic on March 30.

The football school will be staged as usual in the Horizon Room of the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

About 300 high school and college football coaches will attend, according to Association president Bill Power of Uniontown.

Pop Wenrich, Crafton football coach and secretary-treasurer of the Association, is retiring after 37 years at the same school and is to be honored at the March 30 affair.

In the business session, first vice-president Emil Dupke of Washington will probably be named president to succeed Power.

The clinic will begin at 9 a. m. and conclude at 5 p. m.

Dr. Duda Set for RHS Sports Fete

Dr. Michael Duda, president of California State Teachers College, will be the main speaker at Rostraver High School's all-sports banquet next Tuesday.

The event will take place in the Junior High cafeteria.

Athletic Director James Weir said that all varsity athletes, as well as cheerleaders, will be invited to the banquet.

Dr. Duda, formerly superintendent of schools in Monessen, is no stranger to sports. He was a great athlete at Donora High and St. Vincent College, then coached several sports before moving into the administrative field.

Squares Score Bowling Sweep

Squares blanked the Wedges and Keys won a pair from the Arches in Construction League bowling action last night.

Scoring leaders were Charles Biksey, 192-464; Frank Stancato, 136-378; Tom Burger, 159-452; and Gene Piasecki, 191-399.

Standings show Squares, 26-4; Arches, 13-17; Wedges, 11-19; and Keys, 10-20.

North Carolina Tops UP Ratings

Undefeated Tar Heels Top-Ranked In Final College Cage Ratings

NEW YORK (UP) — North Carolina's "Yankee Tar Heels," who carry a spotless 27-0 record into the NCAA tournament this week, were voted the national college basketball champions for the 1956-57 regular season today by the United Press Board of Coaches.

In their final ballot of the season, the 35 outstanding coaches whose ratings generally have become accepted as the most authoritative in the game selected North Carolina for the honor over twice-beaten Kansas.

Twenty-six members of the United Press rating board voted the Tar Heels tops in the country, eight picked them second and one fourth. That gave coach-of-the-year Frank McGuire's men 339 out of a possible 350 points.

Award On TV

McGuire will receive the United Press championship trophy for his team on Ed Sullivan's nationally-televised (CBS) program next Sunday night.

Kansas (21-2), the Big Seven champion which is favored to win the western NCAA playoffs, was runnerup in the final ratings with 309 points; Kentucky's Southeastern Conference champs (22-4) were third and Southern Methodist (21-3), the Southwest Conference champion, was fourth. All are in the NCAA tournament.

Seattle, bound for the National Invitation Tournament with a 22-2 record, was fifth, followed in order by California (20-4), Michigan State (14-8) and Louisville (21-5). St. Louis (19-7) and UCLA (22-4) tied for ninth.

80 Point Game Average

North Carolina, with a squad that included nine players from the New York area imported to Dixie by Brooklyn-born McGuire, proved an exceptionally pressure-proof team. In sweeping through an undefeated season, the Tar Heels played only nine games on their home court at Chapel Hill, N.C.

The 80-point-per-game average compiled by North Carolina this season was not high, compared with other teams. But the Tar Heels' 65-point defensive average was enough to put them on the long end of the score in every game. All - America Len Rosenbluth and his teammates proved standout "clutch" players in the close games.

The coaches, in pre-season selections, accurately predicted five of the teams which eventually finished among the top 10. Kentucky pulled a big surprise by finishing third after winding up 14th in the pre-season ratings. Seattle also surprised the experts, placing fifth after being rated 39th before the campaign began. San Francisco wound up 21st after topping the final ratings the past two years.

Here Are Final Cage Ratings

NEW YORK (UP)—The final 1956-57 United Press college basketball ratings (first-place votes and won-lost records in parentheses):

Team		Points
1. North Carolina	(26) (27-0)	339
2. Kansas	(6) (21-2)	309
3. Kentucky	(1) (22-4)	265
4. S. Methodist	(1) (21-3)	232
5. Seattle	(22-2)	142
6. California	(20-4)	139
7. Michigan State	(14-8)	93
8. Louisville	(1) (21-5)	81
9. (tie) St. Louis	(19-7)	67
10. (tie) UCLA	(22-4)	67

Second 10 — 11, West Virginia, 31; 12, Dayton, 23; 13, Bradley, 20; 14, Brigham Young, 19; 15, Indiana, 12; 16 (tie), Vanderbilt, Xavier (Ohio), and Oklahoma City University, 11 each; 19, Notre Dame, 10; 20, Kansas State, 9.

Others — San Francisco 8; Canisius 7; Utah, 5; Iowa State 4; Wyoming 3; Memphis State and Oklahoma A&M, 2 each; Cincinnati, Idaho State and Yale, 1 each.

Panthers, Irish Favored in NCAA Contests

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—Notre Dame and Pittsburgh were favored to win the NCAA district basketball tournament here tonight and qualify for berths in the regional eliminations at Lexington, Ky.

Pittsburgh (15-7) opposes Morehead State (19-7) in the double-header's first game, while Notre Dame (18-7) meets Miami of Ohio (17-7) in the nightcap at Ohio State's St. John Arena.

Pittsburgh, an "at large" selection which has won five of its last six games, has an 85-81 win over Western Kentucky, which shared the Ohio Valley Conference crown with Morehead. Morehead advanced to the NCAA play when Western Kentucky withdrew because two starters playing fourth year varsity ball would have been unable to compete.

Pitt has won its last two games while the Morehead Eagles swept the last four and previously won five before dropping one.

All four schools are scheduled to start youth - dominated teams. Miami and Morehead will start only one senior, while Notre Dame and Pitt will have three underclassmen as starters.

The Pitt-Morehead winner will meet Kentucky at Lexington.

35 Shooters in Field Round at Archery Club

Thirty-five shooters took part in a field round at the Charleroi Archery Club on Sunday. Here are the winners:

Expert A — Lou Farkas, 371; Bud Williams, 371; Mike Scrip, 352.

Expert B — Lou Tatsch, 309; Jim Kolessor, 295; Chico Diesandro, 293.

Bowman — Bill Johnson, 292; B Kent, 250; Alvin Stagi, 241.

Archer — Midge Stagi, 144; George Rajala, 142; August Brigode, 137.

Novice — Steve Perok, 134; John Hoffman, 108; Bill Hyatt, 77.

Junior — Don Frederick, 184; Jim Kolessor, 158; John Kollson, 112.

Bill Kent advanced from bowman to Expert B since he has now shot out of his class in the last three field rounds.

Next Sunday, another field round will get underway at 1 p. m.

Order Sweeps Over Production

Order swept over Production in Pittsburgh Steel Office League bowling last night.

In other matches, Payroll won a pair from Engineering and General Office took two from Shipping.

Tom Sendek rolled 206-216-200 for a total of 622 pins to set a season record.

Other top scorers were John Lipnicky, 142-394; Sam Batiste, 187-476; John Catanzaro, 181-476; Jim Salay, 230-585; Len Lewitsky, 174-476.

Close Scores in Page Bowling

All matches in the Page Bowling League ended in two to one decisions last night.

Cold Roll topped Stainless, Mechanical No. 1 bested Electrical and Mechanical No. 2 handled Testing.

Best scorers were Frank Watson, 194-527; Dick Stonage, 181-502; Leonard Cook, 188-533; Steve Kasper, 185-446; Francis Flanagan, 203-520 and Steve Ruby, 182-479.

Standings show Stainless, 18-12; Electrical, 17-13; Mechanical No. 1 17-13; Cold Roll, 14-16; Mechanical No. 2, 13-17; and Testing, 11-19.

City League Abandons Show for Kadis Fund

Monessen's City Basketball League has abandoned plans to stage a benefit triple-header for the Richard Kadis Fund.

Instead the league will turn over all money remaining in its treasury after bills are met. The balance figures to be well over $100.

Bucky Lutes, league secretary, said that the league was forced to give up the promotion for a number of reasons.

To begin with, no outstanding teams seem to be available. It was hoped to lure several of the small college quints into the show, but all of them have packed away their basketball gear.

Then, too, City League playoffs in both Charleroi and Donora prevented those communities from sending all-star quints.

Encourage Help

Lutes said league officials have encouraged fans and players to swell the Kadis Fund in Monessen.

He also thanked the Monessen School Board for its generous offer to provide the MHS gym at no cost.

"Perhaps some other organization will take up their offer and promote the benefit," Lutes said.

A tag day will be staged Saturday in Monessen for the Kadis Fund. In charge will be the Greek Ladies Aid Society.

Monessen Fifth To Appear at Home Friday

League-leading Monessen Fifth Avenue will be at home to Monongahela this Friday in Mon Valley League bowling action beginning at 9:30.

The local girls slipped a little in the league standings last week when they won two of three games from Donora. That cut their lead to a "mere" eight games.

In other weekend matches, Belle Vernon blanked Vestaburg, Uniontown swept over Connellsville; Bentleyville won a pair from Monongahela and Charleroi whitewashed Scottdale.

Scoring leaders were Lucy Faltz, (Monessen), 164-417; Peggy Johnston (Donora), 156-438; Leona Kuhn, (Belle Vernon), 198-524; Rachel Jenkins (Vestaburg), 164-417; Martha Venturini, (Uniontown), 187-514; Ange Scacchi (Connellsville), 152-440; Mary Fefolt (Bentleyville), 175-475; Dolores Koch, (Monongahela), 153-421; Lois Riggin, (Scottdale), 158-391; May Kolick (Charleroi) 144-378.

Standings show Monessen, 66-15; Uniontown, 58-23; Donora, 54-27; Fredericktown, 49-32; Monongahela, 47-34; Charleroi, 47-34; Bentleyville, 41-40; Connellsville, 37-44; Belle Vernon, 31-50; Scottdale, 28-53; Vestaburg, 21-60.

Two Sweeps in Saints League

St. Marcella blanked St. Victoria and St. Cecelia swept over St. Anne in St. Leonards Ladies League bowling last night.

Top scorers were Vilma Gagatko, 157-431; Marie Foster, 152-388; Mary Carrotto, 139-367; and Frances Gagatko, 124-343.

Standings show St. Marcella, 26-4; St. Cecelia, 22-8; St. Anne, 7-23; and St. Victoria, 5-25.

Frick Refuses To Comment on 'Czar' Charges

BELLAIR, Fla. (UP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick issued a terse "no comment" to charges that he is a "czar" today amid reports of a general crack-down on "loose talk" by the game's officials.

"I am just not going to comment at all on the subject," said Frick when he learned of the attack made on him by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Rules Committee. Celler called Frick "a czar who seeks to gag officials." The congressman also rallied to the support of C. Leo Deorsey, the Washington Senator official who started the storm.

At the same time, reports from the Florida spring training bases indicated that Frick and league Presidents Will Harridge and Warren Giles are "cracking down" on talk that is "detrimental to baseball." Harridge was reported to have rebuked Deorsey Monday and may also rap the knuckles of Ted Williams and Chuck Comiskey.

No Credit

Harridge, is was said, advised Deorsey that his plan to overhaul the structure of baseball "could not possibly be worked out" and that such suggestions "are highly controversial and bring no credit to the game."

The United Press also learned the game's top officials are annoyed at Williams, the Boston Red Sox' $100,000-a-year slugger, and Comiskey, young vice - president of the Chicago White Sox, over recent remarks that the Yankees may run away with the American League pennant.

St. Francis in Upset Victory

ALTOONA, Pa. (UP)—St. Francis of Loretto ended a mediocre season on a high note Monday night with a 69-64 upset victory over NIT-bound Xavier, of Cincinnati, Ohio, before 2,000 fans at Jaffa Mosque.

The underdog Frankies put a tight game out of reach of the Musketeers by sinking two field goals in the final 30 seconds.

With 40 seconds left, Corney Freeman scored on a tap-in to bring Xavier to within one point, at 65-64. Then came field goals by Len Nixon and John Novalessi to sew it up for the Frankies.

St. Francis, finishing the season with a 12-12 record, was led by Don Falenski with 20 points.

The loss was the seventh against 19 victories for Xavier, which meets Seton Hall in the first round of the NIT on Saturday.

Greaves on TV Wednesday Night

CHICAGO, (UP)—Wilf Greaves of Pittsburgh has been named to sub for the injured Randy Sandy against Spider Webb in Wednesday night's nationally televised 10-round bout at the Chicago Stadium. Sandy was forced to withdraw because of an injured left hand.

Musial Off to Fast Start in Spring Training; Yanks Hot

By UNITED PRESS

Stan Musial sports a .571 spring batting average today as proof he'll be swinging the big stick in the St. Louis Cardinals' pennant bid.

Usually a slow starter, the 36-year old Musial has smashed four hits in seven trips to the plate in Grapefruit League competition and Monday walloped his second two-run homer in as many games. The blow climaxed a three - run Redbird uprising in the sixth inning and produced a 4-3 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves.

The world champion New York Yankees got three-hit pitching from Ralph Terry, Tom Sturdivant and Jack Urban to hand the Boston Red Sox their third straight loss, 2-0. Sturdivant, a 16 - game winner last season, yielded all three Boston hits in the middle three frames.

Bucs Win

The Pittsburgh Pirates made it three straight victories when Danny Kravitz' single with the bases filled and one out in the ninth inning gave them a 3-2 decision over the Washington Senators. Rookie outfielder Al Griggs had three hits for the Pirates and Frank Thomas and Bob Skinner each weighed in with a key single.

Strikeout king Herb Score turned in a sparkling one-hit effort for Redlegs to a 4-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Robin Roberts pitched three scoreless innings for the Phillies in his spring debut. Rip Repulski and Ted Kazanski walloped homers for Philadelphia.

Jim Wilson, Roger Howard and Dick Donovan yielded only five hits in pitching the Chicago White Sox to a 1-0 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers in a night game at Miami. The White Sox made only two hits.

Pirates Seek Fourth Straight

TAMPA, Fla., March 12 (UP)—Righthander Vern Law starts on the mound for Pittsburgh against the Boston Red Sox here today as the Pirates shoot for their fourth straight victory in the Grapefruit League.

The Pirates copped No. 3 on a bases-loaded single by catcher Dan Kravitz in the ninth inning Monday. The hit enabled them to edge Washington, 3-2.

The Senators got a two-run lead off Ronnie Kline, but in the seventh the Pirates reached rookie Rene Nodarse for three singles and a walk and tied the score.

Kravitz' game-winning hit came off another rookie, Alex Gordey.

Laurin Pepper, the winning pitcher, didn't allow a hit in the last two innings. He was the fourth Pirate hurler.

three innings as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 5-1. The Indians had an easy time, collecting eight hits and nine walks off a succession of young Baltimore pitchers.

Rookie Andre Rodgers, the sensation of the New York Giants' Phoenix, Ariz., camp, walloped a two-run triple in the ninth inning to clinch a 7-4 verdict over the Chicago Cubs.
